

Okanagan Bridge Proposal Meets Mixed Reception

Beavers Demonstrate Skills In Shadow Of New Lake Dam

Dusky little beavers are unperturbed by man's engineering ingenuity and they are far from impressed with the outlet from Lake Okanagan.

At any rate, dwarfed as they may be by the flood control project between Okanagan and Shaka Lakes, and unimpressed by any laws to the contrary, a colony of beavers are hacking away at trees along the old river bed, intent on constructing their own dam and the parks board can lump it or leave it.

Tolling in the shadow of the man-made barrier, the beavers' work can be seen less than 100 yards downstream. Already they have chewed sizeable chunks out of trees along the river bank.

The dilemma is the result of the beavers finding themselves hemmed in until the river conversion is completed. And all this is happening within city limits.

"East side — west side — all around the town!"

One of the main topics in Pentiction this past week has been the projected bridge development between Kelowna and Westbank, as proposed by Premier W. A. C. Bennett in his speech last week at Kelowna.

The Premier's announcement that a bridge is feasible and that it is up to communities of the Okanagan to work together for a bridge, if that is what they want, touched off considerable discussion among citizens of Pentiction during the past week.

MANY QUESTIONS

"Should we press for a bridge or maintain that priority be given a road connecting Naramata and Kelowna? What about completion of the highway along the west side of Lake Okanagan? What ferry service would have to be maintained if a road was put on either east or west side, rather than a bridge?" These were some of the questions milled over.

Two organizations held special executive meetings in order to formulate opinions, and the Board of Trade meeting tomorrow promises a full scale debate on the issue.

By and large, most organizations contacted by the Herald favored a co-operative effort to get behind the bridge project, or at least to "carry out preliminary talks on the subject with other valley organizations."

MAJOR PREFERS ROAD

In his statement to the Herald, Mayor Oscar Matson said, "I would favor pressing for a bridge only if it is impossible to get an east side road."

At the same time he declared he was happy to hear that some relief for the traffic bottleneck was in the offing, regardless of whether it meant a bridge or a connecting link between Naramata and Kelowna.

"Personally, I prefer a road along the east side of the lake rather than a bridge," he went on. "There is some nice country north of Naramata and a road (Continued on Page 5)

65th Convention

BCFGA Meets Here Next Week

A total of 58 resolutions are on the agenda as delegates prepare to gather in Pentiction next week for the sixty-fifth annual convention of BCFG.

The meeting, scheduled for the Armoures, January 19, 20 and 21, will be attended by growers representing the industry throughout the Okanagan, Similkameen and Kootenay Valleys.

High on the list of subjects to be discussed is increased protection against imports, a topic which has been reviewed with increasing frequency at meetings of locals during the past year.

Importance of this has been recognized, and next Wednesday afternoon an address will be delivered on tariffs and the factors involved in formulating tariff policies, with particular reference to the fruit industry. Dr. A. E. Richards, principal economist with the department of agriculture, is coming to Pentiction to deliver this address.

Proceedings will commence at 9 a.m., Tuesday, with the registration of delegates and guests. The formal opening will be at 10 a.m. A feature of the first morning will be an address by the Honorable Kenneth Kiernan, minister of agriculture. Business will include the executive's report, treasurer's report and various standing committee reports.

The afternoon of the first day will be devoted to reports from B.C. Tree Fruits Limited, with a review of the affairs of the sales agency and an up-to-the-minute account of the marketing of the past season's crop. Following these the resolutions, affecting particularly B.C. Tree Fruits Limited, and the subjects of pooling and packing will be debated. An evening session looks like a sure thing for the opening day.

On the second morning, Wednesday, the report of the B.C. Fruit Board will be presented. This, undoubtedly, will produce one of the highlights of the convention. (Continued from Page 2)

Local Growers Review Convention Resolutions

Fruit growers took a last look at resolutions going before the annual BCFG convention next week, when the Pentiction local met last night at the Hotel Prince Charles.

There were some minor skirmishes, but in the main, growers decided to let delegates vote on the approximately 60 resolutions according to their discretion.

Only one resolution was submitted, the one dealing with a $5,000 grant to the Summerland Experimental Station. A substitute motion calls on the Dominion government to increase their farm allotment so that a grant from BCFG will be unnecessary.

Two resolutions calling for establishment of an annual honorarium of $1,200 for the president of B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., in addition to allowances when engaged on company business, and a request that directors of the company accept an annual honorarium in addition to the per diem allowance now being paid, met with disfavor. Colin Macdonald and W. H. Morris argued that there should be no differentiation between president and directors and delegates were instructed to ask that the resolutions be withdrawn, failing this they will oppose them.

A resolution to amend BCFG bylaws which would, in effect, base the number of delegates from each local on acreage as well as number of growers was approved, after growers had heard a thorough explanation of just what the proposed change means, given by John Third.

He pointed out that it would reduce the number of delegates from 84 to 75. Only one local, Coldstream, would have an increase in delegates under the new scheme.

Pentiction, with 2333.5 acres of orchard and 312 growers would, in future, be represented by five delegates instead of seven, as at present.

Explained Mr. Third, "the proposed resolution would be a measure of economy, and with all the subdividing going on in urban areas it would act as a brake in the future against our organization becoming too cumbersome."

Alternate delegates for next week's convention are Frank Laird, Herb Corbushley and W. H. Morris.

President Avery King appealed to all local growers that they should make an effort to attend next week's convention.

"You will find it interesting and informative," he declared.

First annual meeting of the West Bench Irrigation District will be held January 25 in the Canadian Legion Hall.

Destiny Of Golf Course

In providing services until it had money from one, or more, industrial site sales.

Furthermore the commissioners contended that even if the city spent $43,000 on purchase of land west of the track for a golf course and $35,000 or so for development of the present golf course for industry, it would still be cheaper than trying to develop the alternative zones, which it was estimated would cost about $150,000 for provision of roads and services.

These arguments were marshalled for council's consideration and what council must weigh in arriving at a decision is the extent of the need for potential industrial development and also the recognized desirability, from every point of view, of a golf course.

With the expiration of the golf club lease next year, council would have no legal obligation whatsoever, city solicitor John S. Atkins, informed council, but council indicated it felt it had a moral responsibility in the matter.

PRESENT BRIEF

In a written brief to the meeting, commission chairman, Syd A. Hodge, said, "The commission considers it would be bad policy to tie this valuable property up on a lease as the planning commission considers this property the best potential industrial site for immediate development." The brief went on to suggest that the golf club retain the westerly half of the present course and that a portion of land west of the present course be developed into permanent golf club property. This would give the golf club an 83 acre course, approximately 22 acres more than at present.

Site B, the property which the commission wishes to hold for industrial use, is the 32 acres of the course which lies east of Railway avenue.

The suitability of three main potential industrial sites were reviewed by the commission: site "A", 54 acres west of the present golf course; site "B", and site "C", 62 acres west of Main street and south of Ellis Creek. The site "C" property did not appear favorable to the meeting as either golf course or industrial property and discussion centred around the other two portions of land.

PROS AND CONS

Alderman Christian opened up one avenue of discussion by suggesting that steps be taken by the city to acquire additional land west of the present golf course. He expressed the opinion that this would be better for the golf club as it would then be one complete unit. He followed this up by adding that the electors could be asked at the next election if they want the present course to remain as a park.

Alderman Garrioch injected his opinion, as chairman of council's industrial development committee, by saying he was opposed to splitting the golf course but did not want to see the industrial development of the city hampered.

Ivor Haddleton strengthened the case for the town planners with his argument that the history of other cities has proved that for successful development the property must be immediately available. "If the golf course property is tied up for 10 years, then it must be written off as a potential industrial site," he concluded.

Alderman Titchmarsh stood firmly opposed to touching the present golf course saying that "to ask the public to underwrite a park on just the prospect of it being used as an industrial site was not a very compelling argument. Quite impractical," he declared.

Mr. Hodge answered Alderman Titchmarsh by stating that Penticton will not grow if the city waits for industry to take the initiative.

Discussion continued along similar lines until Commissioner Lyle Chambers, in his first words of the evening, brought up the point of whether the golf club was satisfied with the layout of the course. He suggested that the present course does not present a very interesting prospect to visiting golfers, another site in rolling country appears preferable he suggested.

Alex McNeill, chairman of parks, made his stand in favor of the commission's recommendation. "At the risk of being accused of selling the parks down the river," he said, "I believe we must go after industry." The discussion then turned to the point of what compensation the golf club merited and the city solicitor remarked that legally it would be hard to give the golf club any real reimbursement as once the lease is up the land reverts to the city without obligation. The lease expires in mid 1955.

Alderman Harris wanted to know what it would cost the city to buy the property recommended for the golf course.

City Clerk H. G. Andrew said that the land, 54 acres west of the present golf course, had been valued at around $800 per acre or a total of about $43,000. This estimate compared with that of commission chairman Hodge, Mayor Manson tossed in the opinion that "for that kind of land I consider it a holdup."

Mr. McKay, speaking for the golf club, informed the meeting that the club has been considering this very property since 1917 but, up to the present have not been able to make a satisfactory deal with the landholders. In reply to a question, Mr. McKay said the golf club members had proposed to purchase the property out of personal funds.

Still seeking a workable solution, Alderman Christian proposed that if the city could acquire other suitable property for the golf club, he wondered if it would be agreeable to allow the course to remain as it is on a year to year lease until such time as industry required the land. In answer to the Mayor's objection to propositions with too many "ifs" in them, Alderman Christian asked him where the city would get $40,000 in one year to buy the property.

UNSATISFIED

City Engineer Paul G. W. Walker confirmed the commission's statement that the property west of the golf course would be unsuitable for any heavy industry because it lacked sound sub-surface footings. The commission introduced the cost of development and the figures for the requested golf course property were $35,000 as compared with $170,000 for the land west of the golf links. Property development would cover roads, sewers and water.

Mr. Hodge followed up a few minutes later by saying that it would cost the city nothing to service the first industry to locate on the golf course property as the sale of land would bring a net profit of $10,000. In the westerly property, however, even after the sale of property for industrial construction, the loss on the first five acres of the improved land would amount to $30,000.

Alderman Titchmarsh returned to the discussion asking if the Town Planning Commission would have any objection to a year to year lease, subject to cancellation only by undedication by the public. Commission chairman Hodge in answering the proposal, reiterated the town planners' earlier contention that until the city sets aside certain lands for industrial development, it is in no position to expect industry to come into Penticton.

Study Proposed Operation Of City Gravel Pit

City Engineer Paul G. W. Walker has strongly recommended in principle the immediate acceptance of an offer by the Penticton Dray and Express to install a screening plant at the new West Bench gravel pit.

The advice was contained in a report received by council and referred to the board of works committee for study.

Investment by the company would be in the neighborhood of $12,000 and it is proposed to issue a license to operate for an initial term of two years.

Other details of the agreement would be outside city limits gravel would be used for construction work on and used inside the city would be unrestricted. Oversize material to be available to the city, free of charge, with the same condition applying to surplus screened sand.

Cost of screened gravel would be based on a normal day's production at the rate of $65 per eight-hour day.

organization of the board has been recommended and some of the resolutions are likely to prove fairly controversial.

Wednesday afternoon, preceding Dr. Richards' address, will be devoted to the reports of B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., and of the president and general manager of the processors. With the extensive program of experiments in developing soft fruit by-products carried out by the processors the past year — in response to instructions from the 1953 convention — these reports will be most interesting. In fact they may produce some surprises.

On Wednesday evening, in the Prince Charles Hotel, the delegates will be the guests of the Mayor and Council of Penticton at a banquet.

The first thing Thursday morning, the executive will submit an extraordinary resolution on the appointment of annual convention delegates. After this the contract committee, set up this past year to revise the three-party contract, will make its report.

The main business of the closing day will be the election of the industry officers with the district councils holding separate meetings for completion of their own sines of representatives.

The budget for the coming year will be presented. If necessary there will be an evening session to close the convention.

Penticton Herald Editorials

Our Opportunity

The prompt and vigorous opposition launched by the Vancouver Sun, as soon as Premier Bennett expressed his hopes for improving traffic conditions through the Okanagan, should convince anyone still in need of convincing that province-wide opposition to the spending of any sizeable sums of money for such a need can be confidently expected.

But the premier is right in his feeling that a splendid highway through the interior, affording the best route from the heart-land of the continent to the far north, can work miraculous changes. We agree with him. And Okanagan centres will be astride a development which, some day, will make the present-day status of the provincial interior seem a historic joke.

In brief, we have the opportunity, here and now, to see the start of a sensible effort to remake this valley's place in the scheme of things.

That opportunity consists in united co-operation amid the Okanagan's cities, to get behind an effort to build a bridge across Okanagan Lake.

The fact that the bridge would be built by toll authorities could offset criticism and hostility from the rest of the province, a factor that should not be forgotten by those who still cling to hopes of building an east side road.

That latter road, through a now unpopulated area, which would still leave provincial funds split between an east and west side route in maintenance and future improvement, and which would still leave some ferry service as a necessity, would encounter so much more general resistance that it can be regarded as hopeless. The Herald last week catalogued many more arguments, suggesting the much greater likelihood of actually achieving a solution by way of the bridge.

But the main reason we would like to see some solution, and see it soon, is in our conviction that, with a thoroughly improved highway to the north, the volume of trade and traffic that will sweep up through the whole interior will make history in the western part of the continent.

A bridge would leave the government free to concentrate on one main route in the future, serving now populated areas, and the improvement, we repeat, will sweep us into a progress that has long been deferred.

Our Golf Course Problem

We often feel that the golf course question is the toughest one facing local authorities. To mix metaphors, it's a heart-breaking head-scratcher.

There's no question as to the value of such a thing as that course. It gives annually increasing pleasure to a great many home-town residents and it is a "must" so far as visitors are concerned. Latterly, it seems to us, it has particularly increased its hold on the community's affection.

But to leave the whole question here is to run away from realities. And this happens to be an issue that Penticton cannot evade.

In its present location, on a leased basis, the club can never feel really secure. Every improvement it makes must be with the unhappy feeling that, some day or other, it can lose its tenancy. The club must realize, moreover, that pressure on such an area, in the heart of the community adjacent to railway tracks, will not abate. Rather, it will increase with every passing year. Something, some day, has to be done.

What is the moral? It is for all authorities who have anything to do with the question to reach one determination — that is, to work for some final answer by locating for the golfers a really permanent home, and as speedily as possible. We know well that this is a solution easier to suggest in a theoretical way than to work out. If this were not so, the whole matter would have been settled long since. But the problem is not incapable of solution, either.

Meanwhile it will be no advance to toss the golf club out. This could only mean the loss of a valuable civic asset. The club course should be protected in its present location, it is argued, unless and until a reasonable alternative is created and with civic assistance which would be offset by sale of the land for industrial purposes — it always being remembered that the true value to Penticton rests not in the actual immediate return from sale of such land, but in the continuing income from new industrial payrolls and tax revenues. The city could well afford to contribute every dollar it gets from such a sale, and more, to help provide a new course. So goes the argument and, in a general way, we agree heartily.

The whole problem, of course, is in timing and financing. It is this that drives those who are probing it to distraction.

The city may not be able to assist the golf club without funds from sale of the land. It cannot hope to sell the land unless it has such land to hand over, which would mean disposing of the golfers. And if it takes this latter action, and abruptly ends the lease, to begin with the golf as a sport may languish and die before another alternative course comes into being. One part of the problem chases another. No wonder a solution has been hanging fire for a long time.

It seems to us, in trying to be fair to all interests involved, that the lease could be continued for some reasonable period, for the alternative seems to be an end to local golf for a considerable time. This lease period, however, should be a final one and be marked by a regular program of work towards a transfer of location, and we would not support the principle of continuing the lease if it were merely to be a signal for everyone to go to sleep on the issue again for the duration of that lease.

The Herald has consistently taken the stand that the property is too vital to remain continuously at the disposal of a sport. Pleasant as the latter is, it should surely allow payroll wages to take precedence in the community. That is why we have never condoned the comfortable attitude of some golfers who hoped only to get a lease, somehow, and then forget about everything. The problem cannot be forgotten. It must be measured up to. But it strikes us as an equally lazy solution merely to end a golf club lease abruptly. A functioning golf club, somewhere or other, also means dollars to Penticton. Surely, even if it must take a period of time, Penticton can add to its strategically available industrial acreage, and at the same time manage a smooth transfer of its golfing facilities. It is to this objective, we submit, that every local interested authority should give aid.

The Legacy

Pioneer Days

10 years ago this week.

G. Everett Craig was re-elected president of the board of trade. F. G. Pye, vice-president and H. B. Mowley, secretary-treasurer. The Princeton area was greatly concerned over rumors that Copper Mountain mine might be shut down. Orchard labor for 1944 loomed as a main topic at the forthcoming BCFGA convention at Kelowna. Development of the West Bench, aspects of the sewage system planning, the civic auditorium, technical school, production of forestry roads and trails and housing were all reviewed in the annual report of the Reconstruction and Rehabilitation Committee of the Board of Trade. Penticton was chosen as the site for the 1944 convention of the Jaycees and Jack Young was re-elected president of the local Jaycees. William Goetz was committed to higher court on a charge of murdering Emile Vandepitte. A plea to guard against letting Canada's economic life in the post-war era slip back into the doldrums of the "hungry thirties" was made by B. G. Webber, MLA, for Similkameen, in an address to the Rotary Club.

Reeve Oliver and Sam Clarke were left facing each other on the platform as the audience made a move for the exits and the annual civic meeting broke up in near bedlam. Rev. John Cleland, former minister of St. Saviour's Anglican Church, passed away in Oregon. The first 50-ton carload of ore was shipped from the Sally Mine at Beaverdell. Reports said that the Seamus may be taken out of service and hauling contractors were asked for estimates to carry mail by truck. Fruit markets were showing a marked improvement. Mrs. A. Gilley was elected president of the Women's Institute. Minimum temperature for the week in Penticton was 18. Good dry jackpine was advertised at $2.00 a rick. Penticton elections went by acclamation. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Guernsey celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Wallace Beery, George Raft and Jackie Cooper were playing in "The Bowery" at the Empress Theatre. Penticton Hospital showed a net profit of $352.77 on the year's operation.

30 years ago this week.

Penticton Hospital had a deficit of over $1400 on the year's operation. The annual report also disclosed that per capita cost of patients was $4.81 per day. Eight rinks were entered in competition by Penticton curlers. Reeveship was being contested by Reeve Edward Chambers and James Kirkpatrick. Clear Board of Trade decided a steamery was an essential to the community. Penticton Choral Society resumed rehearsals. A special edition of the Herald was planned for late evening with results of the municipal elections. CPR placed an embargo on all fruit shipments to the prairies because of severe cold weather there. Fruit from the south end of Okanagan Lake was selling freely at Vancouver. Total value of building permits for 1923 was $49,515.

MURDER CASE RECALLED WITH RETIREMENT OF RCMP CORPORAL

A colorful career that commenced May 3, 1927, will officially close at the end of January when Cpl. H. J. Jennings takes annual vacation before being superannuated from the RCMP. Cpl. Jennings, who has been at the Penticton detachment since June, 1951, has in his own words, "done a lot of police work". In the interval between joining the B.C. Police at Golden and his retirement.

Besides Penticton and Golden, his service in law-enforcement has taken him to Vanderhoof, Quesnel, Merritt, Kamloops, Osoyoos and Cranbrook. He was NCO in charge at Kamloops and Oliver and transferred from the B.C. Police to the RCMP at Oliver, in 1950.

Cpl. Jennings can recall many crimes and criminals but none more notorious than the celebrated "Fredericks case" in which he played a leading role.

Even though Carl Fredericks escaped the noose, he did so only by a width of a rope, and was eventually deported to his native Germany after three trials on a charge of murdering two companions.

It was in the early '30's that Fredericks and his companions, Herman Peters and Max Westphal, went into the Tremblour Lake area, north of Fort St. James.

When Peters and Westphal failed to return, Cpl. Jennings was assigned to hunt for them. With an Indian guide he struck out into the vast northern wilderness with very little in the way of clues. But the Indian guide proved astute, and as they threaded their way north, he pointed out the camps at which the three men had stayed, noting that in every instance, two men had slept close together, and the third by himself.

This aroused suspicion, and upon reaching the final campsite Cpl. Jennings and the guide sifted the dirt until they found bullets. Finding the bodies, however, was to prove a more difficult task, and the two searchers spent many hours in vain.

Finally discouraged, Cpl. Jennings picked up a piece of petrified wood and gave vent to his feelings by tossing it against the out-bank at the lake's edge. The wood hit a piece of moss and raised it just enough to reveal the elbow portion of a sweater. Discovery of the bodies in their shallow graves was then just a matter of moments.

At almost the same time, Fredericks was picked up in Alberta. Brought back to British Columbia, his first trial at Prince George resulted in the jury disagreeing. A second trial convicted him and he was sentenced to hang. An appeal was launched and a change of venue to Kamloops resulted in the charge being dismissed.

Cpl. Jennings has no future plans after retirement, but he doesn't intend to remain idle. He and Mrs. Jennings will continue to reside in Penticton.

The New "Bay"

A board fence around the large strategically-placed lot at the corner of Wade Avenue and Main Street is a most welcome sight these days.

It heralds the start of work on the Hudson's Bay Company new store here, a project that will cost this organization at least a third of a million dollars, in property, building, and fixtures, by the time it opens here next mid-summer.

Making the development all the more satisfying is the fact that Kenyon and Company, local contractors, will be building this fine new addition to the city.

The property involved, owned by the company for some time, has for an even longer time been a gap right in the heart of the city's business area. Now that it is to be graced by this handsome two-

Frank Eraut

Frank Eraut, so long as most people can remember, has been "Mr. Cannery" heretofore.

News of his superannuation from the service of Canadian Cannery Western Limited is therefore, news of more than ordinary impact on the community.

A resident of Penticton since 1930, as the company's manager, and identified with cannery operations in the Okanagan for over forty years (apart from the interval of his war service), he has put down roots that few others can equal.

The Herald wants to take this opportunity, at the time of his retirement from storey structure, the whole of the downtown area, we predict, will change as if by magic.

The community, we have no hesitation in stressing, will become even more of a buying hub, a target of interest for a widening circle of customers. The Bay is doing a good turn even to those who may think of themselves as business rivals.

The Bay, first of the greater department store corporations to make Penticton its home, is showing its confidence in our future. And we are all heartened by the gesture.

We think the company is to be congratulated on its step. Its confidence will be rewarded.

Penticton, as a whole, can also congratulate itself.

life-long duties, to commend Mr. Eraut for one feature of his character that has brought benefit to the community. As busy as any one man could be, in the routine business of daily life, he nevertheless managed to find time for more than his share of public service. He has latterly served on the school board, as president of both the Canadian Legion and of the Penticton board of trade, and, over the years he has participated willingly in a host of affairs. Mr. Cannery, in other words, was also Mr. Citizen, and it is in this respect that he will be long and well remembered.

Okanagan Bridge Proposal

This Worship feels an east side road could be a first class one, and could be constructed for, perhaps, half the money it would take to build a bridge.

"It is true that we should consider communities on the existing road between here and Westbank, but they would still have service to the north and south," he summed up, "eventually, we must have both the bridge and east side road, the more connecting links the better, but when it comes to a choice, I favor construction of the east side road first."

UNANIMOUS SUPPORT

Penticton Tourist Association swung their unanimous support behind the proposed bridge. Letters will be forwarded to mayors and boards of trade in all valley cities, with a copy going to Premier W. A. C. Bennett, urging that every organization in the Okanagan support the move afoot to secure the bridge.

Explaining the Tourist Association's stand, president Wilf Dupont stated, "There are many people who are presently against the bridge, who, if they were aware of the correct facts, would change their minds. And it is up to the tourist association and the Board of Trade to make these people aware of the complete facts."

W. A. Loughheed commended the Penticton Herald for "their very complete reporting of the Premier's speech at Kelowna."

As president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Eric Larsen recalled that most branches of the organization, in the Okanagan, had previously favored an east side road, and there was no reason to change that opinion.

"However," he continued, "any improvement in the traffic situation will be welcomed and we should certainly get behind a bridge if there is no alternative." He mentioned, also, that a toll bridge is a nuisance, not taken kindly to by the travelling public.

COSTS FAVOR BRIDGE

Speaking for the Auto Courts and Resorts Association, president Ben Nyen came out 100 percent for the bridge. "I feel the bridge would be beneficial to the entire Okanagan Valley," he declared. "And now is the time to press for it. As a matter of fact, I intend to place the matter before our association in the hope we can get a movement underway to support the project."

Mr. Nyen added dollars and cents to his argument by pointing out that while estimated cost of the bridge is ten million dollars, and an east side road nine million dollars, it would still be necessary to maintain the present highway and ferry service.

"At the present time, ferries give fair service but the visitor doesn't realize this and it works a hardship on the tourist industry," he declared. "However, the day will come when we will need an east side artery and a west side road all the way up the lake, but a bridge is the solution at present."

Mr. Nyen forecast tremendous development in communities between here and Kelowna if a bridge is built and predicted that Westbank would "blossom into a bustling town."

NON-COMMITTAL

Lyman Seney, president of the Board of Trade, was non-committal. He divulged that a meeting of the executive had dealt with Premier Bennett's announcement, and that a full scale review of the entire proposition would be part of tomorrow night's annual board meeting. "As far as the executive is concerned, we favor a meeting with Boards of Trade in Kelowna and Vernon and with representatives of communities that would be affected," he explained. "And it seems only logical that the Okanagan-Cariboo Trail Association should be included at such a meeting."

He added that if it is found that a bridge is a practical project in the foreseeable future and an east side road is not, support for the bridge should be given.

M. D. MacNair, president of the Automotive Transport Association of B.C. said the trucking industry would no doubt welcome construction of a bridge.

"It is more than alleviation of a traffic bottleneck," he explained, "good transportation facilities act as a tonic in bringing new development, and we think a bridge would be a powerful factor in aiding growth, which would be of great value to the entire Okanagan Valley."

"Proper transportation facilities and industrial and business growth go hand in hand, and the one complements the other."

The city engineer was instructed by council, Monday, to prepare an estimate of cost of renewing 1000 feet of the roadhouse ditch by gunniting, or as an alternative, by complete reconstruction.

NO PROBLEM IN MARKETING OF APPLE JUICE

Reviewing the year's operation, Gordon DesBrisay, president of B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., told members of Penticton local, B.C. FGA, that there was no problem in connection with finding sales for apple juice. Fruit growers met last night at the Hotel Prince Charles.

"Earlier in the season we were alarmed over the lack of fruit, which we estimated would be between nine and 10 thousand tons," Mr. DesBrisay declared. "Conditions improved, however, and we wound up with 14,700 tons."

He added that the company could have used more apples had they been available.

A total of 465,000 cases of juice was processed this year, he revealed, and in order to get that volume it was necessary to curtail production of evaporated apples and concentrated juices.

"Putting up juices is more profitable," the president stated. Scanning the market situation, Mr. DesBrisay said sales are keeping up and this is especially true on the prairies.

"As far as soft fruits are concerned," the speaker declared, "the matter of processing them will be dealt with at next week's convention and I feel I should make no further mention of it in advance."

Mr. DesBrisay then reviewed the report of the contract committee which will be given in full at next week's BCFGA meeting. He explained contemplated changes.

One of the most significant is a proposal to authorize B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., to offer for sale products handled by it in the state then existing, circumstances indicate, that is, as a fresh, canned, or otherwise processed product.

Final details have been completed prior to the first general meeting of the United Appeals Society, scheduled for Monday, January 18. All welfare organizations in the city and a few from the immediate district will be represented.

Penticton service clubs have also been notified of the meeting. Committees for the pending drive for funds will be elected at that time.

New Water Intake A Necessity Kelowna Council Is Informed

KELOWNA — Necessity of their City of Kelowna relocating the water intake pipe in a less-contaminated region and installing a new pumping station, was stressed by Mayor J. J. Ladd in his inaugural address to the 1954 City Council last week. Cost of this huge undertaking will be in the neighborhood of $140,000, and it is likely a bylaw, for this amount will be submitted to ratepayers later in the year.

Other than this major expenditure, His Worship again recommended a "Pay As You Go Policy."

Mayor Ladd, along with Alderman Dick Parkinson, Jack Treadgold and Bob Knox and school trustee, Vic Gregory, took the oath of office before Justice of the Peace E. M. Carruthers, Ven. Archdeacon D. S. Catchpole pronounced the invocation.

Present for the brief, but impressive ceremony were Premier and Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett; O. L. Jones, M.P. (Okanagan Boundary) and Mrs. Jones, members of the Board of Trade and other civic organizations.

Jaycees Augment Convention Committee

Junior Chamber of Commerce members added two names to their convention committee this week. They are J.J. Van Winkle and Jack Petley.

B.C. convention of Jaycees is slated for Penticton in May and will be presided over by Ivor Haddleton.

Headquarters will be set up in the Incolta Hotel and accommodation is being found at hotels and auto courts for the expected 300 delegates.

Arbitration Hearings On Teachers' Salaries Open Here Monday

R. R. Kay has been named chairman of the arbitration board to sit in Penticton, on Monday, to arbitrate teachers' salaries for 1954.

R. A. Mahoney and A. J. Sprague have been named as arbitrators for the board and teachers respectively.

As a result of a breakdown of negotiations between the school trustees and the teachers' matter was referred to arbitration.

Quinine from the bark of the chincona tree was first used as a medicine in Peru in 1638.

Purse Snatchers Rob City Woman

Purse snatchers robbed Mrs. Nellie Daines, suite 4319 Sekhard Apartments, of her purse, $16 in cash and personal papers, last Wednesday night.

Mrs. Daines was proceeding west on Eckhardt avenue and when she reached Martin street, two male assailants grabbed her purse and fled in the dark.

She was unable to furnish police with a description of the two men.

CAWSTON

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tarling, who have been visiting with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Overton, returned to their home at Pioneer on January 3.

Eddie Paulsen is attending the University of British Columbia where he is taking a short course in Agriculture.

The Cawston Board of Trade postponed the regular meeting from Tuesday, January 12, to Thursday, January 14.

Largely through the efforts of the "Stem Winders Square Dance Club" the Cawston community has raised sufficient money for part payment on a new hardwood floor in the community hall. This will be installed in January. Voluntary help would be greatly appreciated and anyone interested in helping with this community project may contact W. R. Ritchie or Mrs. C. Rash.

Mrs. C. Rash is confined to bed with sinus trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sanderson and family arrived home on Sunday after spending two months in Toronto where they were the guests of Mrs. Sanderson's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor, former residents of Cawston.

Funeral Services For Mrs. E. M. Lang At Peachland, Sat.

Funeral services will be held at Peachland Anglican Church on Saturday, at 2 p.m., for Elizabeth Mary Lang, who passed away in hospital at New Westminster, on Sunday. She was 71 years of age.

She is survived by two cousins, Mrs. Richard Oddy and Mrs. E. A. McInnes, New Westminster; one niece, Mrs. Kay Altkens.

Rev. Canon F. V. Harrison will officiate, with committal at Peachland Cemetery. No flowers by request. Penticton Funeral Chapel in charge of arrangements.

Ex-Mayor Will Serve Out Term On UBCM

Ex-Mayor W. A. Rathbun will continue to serve as vice-president of the UBCM until his term of office has expired. Mr. Rathbun, who resigned his UBCM post on relinquishing the post of chief magistrate here, was later informed that he could continue on the UBCM executive, despite his lack of civic office. Mr. Rathbun informed council of his intention to withdraw his resignation and asked for its approval.

After some discussion a resolution was approved in which council expressed the view that it was a matter between Mr. Rathbun and the UBCM, but that council had no objections to the ex-mayor finishing out his term of office.

Three Local RCMP Officers Honored

Three members of the RCMP were honored at Chilliwack divisional headquarters over the weekend when they were presented with long service and good conduct medals for their police work.

The three are Sgt. George Mohr and Cpl. H. J. Jennings, both of Penticton, and Constable L. A. Dore, of Hedley.

Constable Dore has been in the police force for 33 years, Cpl. Jennings 31 years, and Sgt. Mohr 21 years.

Vandalism Deplored By City Alderman

Alderman Wilson Hunt, in council meeting Monday, deplored acts of vandalism by boys who recently smashed reflectors on two newly installed street lights on Fairview road. A citizen reported the vandalism in process to police, but although the police were at the scene in record time they were too late to apprehend the culprits. "I don't know what we are going to do about it," commented Alderman Hunt, "we do our best to provide lights and then this kind of thing happens." Cost to the city $60.

High temperature in Penticton last year was 98.0 degrees recorded July 11.

Tourist Ass'n Takes Stand

A complete survey to find an alternative site for a golf course is the gist of a resolution passed Sunday at a meeting of the Penticton Tourist Association, but not until after a heated discussion that lasted several hours.

The proposed survey would be made by the city in conjunction with the Golf Club and the Board of Trade. The resolution expressed hope that an alternative site would be more interesting than the present course, would be more representative of the natural beauty of the locality and would afford the Golf Club the security of ultimately having the deed to their land.

Discussion resulted from a resolution which will be debated at tomorrow night's Board of Trade meeting, calling for City Council to leave the signing of the Golf Club lease until it can be further discussed by the Board at a general meeting.

The Tourist Association resolution reads as follows: Penticton Tourist Association feels that a golf course is an absolute necessity to Penticton from a tourist point of view, and in view of the present expressed feeling of the executive of the Board of Trade, who consider the present site to be prime industrial property, that prior to any cancellation of the lease, the Penticton Tourist Association would urge the city to make a complete survey in conjunction with the Golf Club which would be more interesting than the present course, and would be more representative of the natural beauty of our locale, and which would afford the Golf Club the security of ultimately having the deed to their land.

Packers Flop On WIL Tour So Far

The touring Kelowna Packers continued their run of bad luck last night as they went down to defeat 5-1 before the surging power of Willie Schmidt's Nelson Maple Leafs.

The loss was the sixth in as many games as Kamloops and Vernon handed them a double loss before Packers headed for the WIL loop and they have failed to hit the win column in four games.

Spokane beat them twice over the weekend, Kimberley Monday. Packers play in Trail tonight, then return home.

MAKE SURVEY

The city's engineering staff will make a complete detailed survey for renewing the Macdonald line either along its present location, or as an alternative, relocating the line and report to the irrigation committee in time for adoption of the annual estimates.

Add Legion Auxiliary To Conventions To Be Held Here In 1954

Add to Penticton's conventions for 1954 the provincial gathering of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion.

Their four-day meeting is scheduled for May 30 to June 2, and about 250 are expected to attend from all parts of British Columbia.

Since Wednesday of last week Penticton has been a dull place — just 4.2 hours of sunlight.

Firefighters had a quiet week, recording only one call.

They were called to a car fire at 1632 Fairview Road, last Sunday. There was no damage.

Land Purchase Authorized At Danger Junction

A small triangle plot of orchard land at the intersection of Main street, south, and Skaha Lake road will be purchased by the city from Mrs. A. Riordan at a cost of $500. The purchase was authorized by City Council on Monday and clears the way for the provincial highways department to relocate the highway curve at the dangerous intersection and to provide for better visibility.

Vatican City in Rome has its own coinage, post office, radio and railway station.

In And AROUND TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rathbun returned to Penticton on Thursday after holidaying for the past two weeks in Vancouver and on Salt Spring Island with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newnham.

Mrs. H. H. Whitaker arrived home on Monday after spending the past three weeks in Vancouver with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Blair Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Saunier with the latter's mother, Mrs. Helen O'Brien, and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herb O'Rourke, and Maureen, have returned to this city after spending a week in Seattle. The family group travelled to the coast city to attend the wedding of their cousin, Miss Joan Elchey, and spend the New Year holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGannon, formerly of Penticton.

Walter Kobitzsch, of Hardisty, Alberta, who has been visiting for the past week in Penticton with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert T. Johnson, left yesterday for the coast to spend some time in Mission City and in Vancouver.

Mrs. Gordon M. Clark was hostess on Thursday afternoon to members of the Maple Circle of the United Church at their regular monthly meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gayle have returned to Victoria after spending the holiday season visiting the latter's parents, Alderman and Mrs. Wilson Hunt, Skaha Lake.

Visitors in this city for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Tidball, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Tidball, and Judy, of Cloverdale. Mrs. W. D. Tidball with Judy remained in Penticton to visit for the next two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Gibson, Scott Road, while the other coast residents returned home on Sunday.

Mrs. M. L. Clark and small son, Kim, left on Saturday by plane to return to their home in Vancouver after visiting for the holiday season with Mrs. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lockhart, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Clark. Mr. L. Clark was in this city to spend the Christmas holiday with the family group.

H. M. Logan, vice-president of the Penticton Kiwanis Club, Mrs. Logan, I. A. Mitchell, immediate past president of the club, and Mrs. Mitchell were in Summerland last evening to attend the banquet and installation of the 1954 slate of officers of the Summerland Kiwanis Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roath with children, Virginia and Bruce, of Robbins, California, have returned south after vacationing for two weeks with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Roath, of this city.

Visiting over the Christmas holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Montague, Okanagan avenue, were Miss Margaret Montague, a nurse in training at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, and Gordon Montague, of Nanaimo.

Current Year's Officers Installed By Legion L. A.

Ten guests from Okanagan Falls were among the 47 present on Monday evening in the Canadian Legion Hall for the installation of the 1954 slate of officers of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Branch 40, of the Canadian Legion.

Provincial representative for the South Okanagan zone of Legion Auxiliaries and immediate past president of the local L.A., Mrs. Graham Kincaid, officiated to install into office Mrs. P. F. Erault, president; Mrs. Wilfred Gougouin and Mrs. Richard Green, first and second vice-presidents respectively; Mrs. Ray Thomas, secretary, and Mrs. Richard Knight, treasurer. Executive members of the auxiliary are Mrs. Kincaid, past-president, Mrs. James Watson, Mrs. Lee Stephenson and Mrs. W. S. Kernaghan. Mrs. Harry J. Finlayson was installed sergeant-at-arms and Mrs. A. J. Marriott and Mrs. J. A. Houghton, color bearers. Mrs. Irene Prentiss will be auxiliary pianist for the current year.

Prior to the pleasing ceremonies the president of Branch 40, P. F. Erault, spoke briefly to those present and thanked the auxiliary for the invaluable assistance given the Legion during the past year.

Immediately on being installed

Mrs. Erault officiated to appoint a number of L.A. representatives to forthcoming annual meetings in this city and to the annual zone meeting in Keremeos on Sunday. Mrs. Arnold Johnson will attend the Canadian Cancer Society meeting on January 21; Mrs. Kincaid will represent the L.A. on the proposed united welfare program and Mrs. Gougouin will attend the meeting of the Canadian Red Cross Society tomorrow.

Mrs. Ray Thomas and Mrs. G. W. Bolton will be delegates to the auxiliary zone meeting in Keremeos.

The newly installed president will appoint committees and conveners at the next meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to be held on February 1 in the Legion Hall.

Mrs. Kincaid, the retiring president of the Penticton L.A., was presented with a past president's pin and corsage by Mrs. Wallace Muter prior to the members adjourning to participate in a delayed Christmas party and gift exchange.

Conveners Named By Ladies' Aid To St. Andrew's

Committees for the year were named when the Ladies' Aid to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held its first meeting of 1954 on Thursday at the home of Mrs. James McGowan with the president, Mrs. J. L. Palethorpe, occupying the chair.

Mrs. G. O. Baulkham, Mrs. F. G. Abbott and Mrs. H. C. Rosborough were appointed to the purchasing committee with Miss Eva MacMichels and Mrs. M. J. Robertson chosen to visit the sick and shut-ins during the year.

The date for the annual Birthday Tea was set for Saturday, May 8, and tentative plans were discussed for the popular spring tea.

The next meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held on February 4 at the home of Mrs. G. O. Baulkham, 579 Park street.

After adjournment of the meeting refreshments were served to the large number present by the hostess.

Mr. Mrs. J. A. Read Married 40 Years

SUMMERLAND — Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Read were treated to a party which was a great surprise to them recently on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

They were married in Ashcroft in 1913. Both came to Canada from Hull, England. The officiating minister was the Rev. Bates, a Presbyterian, who afterward came to the Summerland charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Read lived for a short time in Ashcroft and in Seattle, having been in Summerland for almost the forty years of their married life.

Assisting in arranging the party were Mrs. H. J. (Bill) Barkwill, Mrs. R. Blewett, Mrs. T. Fisher, Mrs. H. Fiske, and their daughter, Mrs. Howard Pruden.

Mrs. Barkwill presented them with a lovely table lamp as an anniversary remembrance from the group and Mrs. Fiske made a wedding cake to mark the date which was cut by the honored couple.

Summerland Musical Group Addressed By Mrs. Cameron, Kelowna

SUMMERLAND — A Summerland Music Appreciation group had as guest on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Mason, Trout Creek, Mrs. G. D. Cameron, of Gilsbach, Kelowna.

Mrs. Cameron traced the development of some musical aspects from the time of the earlier composers up until fairly modern times, noting that what was considered "shattering" 500 years ago, was entirely accepted now.

An entertaining, fluent speaker, Mrs. Cameron illustrated her informal talk with records chosen to augment her points.

Miss Coubrough accompanied her to Summerland and they were luncheon guests of Mrs. Guy Fisher.

FIRST MEETING OF NEW YEAR FOR MAPLE LEAF CIRCLE OF FEDERATION

Mrs. E. W. Unwin, newly chosen president of the Maple Leaf Circle of the Women's Federation of the Penticton United Church, occupied the chair at the first meeting of the current year held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Gordon M. Clark.

Other officers appointed for 1954 were Mrs. F. J. Pryce, secretary; Mrs. P. F. Erault, treasurer; Mrs. H. Peel, mite boxes; Mrs. M. Johnston, social convener, and Mrs. J. Murdoch, mance committee.

The fifth program of the study book "Where'er the Sun" was presented at a preparation for a radio script with four members of the circle taking part. A letter of appreciation for a Christmas parcel was received from the Burns Lake Hospital.

The February meeting of the Maple Leaf Circle will be held at the home of Mrs. O. Husted, 205 Windsor avenue.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess to the 10 members and one visitor present.

BABY CLINIC MAKES VISIT TO NARAMATA

NARAMATA — Ten pre-school age children attended the Well Baby Clinic held in the Naramata elementary school, on Tuesday afternoon of last week. This clinic is a service of the South Okanagan Health Unit and is conducted by the first Tuesday of each month by Mrs. Annie Mason, Public Health Nurse, from Penticton.

The attendance for the early year clinic fell far below the average of 20 to 22 babies and small children who have the regular general health check, receive immunization shots and are weighed. Mrs. Mason not only directs this valuable service to the community but visits the homes of all new-born infants for the first six weeks and gives general supervision to their care.

Mayor To Keep Eye On Letters

Mayor Oscar Matson wishes to keep up-to-date on correspondence emanating from the city hall and on Monday requested that copies of all letters written by department heads be placed on his desk.

Mayor Matson was duly warned that much of the correspondence was routine, much of it technical, but the new mayor refused to be dismayed, stuck to his point and won council assent. From now on, copies of all correspondence will be available to the mayor and aldermen for perusal without the necessity of them having to go to department files.

The mayor expressed the belief that there was some duplication in correspondence and one reason for his request was to see if this existed and, if so, how it could be eliminated.

TURN DOWN AUTO COURT

City Council, on Monday, concurred with the recommendation of the Town Planning Commission that the application of Katherine E. Michalow for permission to establish an auto court on Westminster avenue, east of Power street, be not approved as the establishment would not be in public interest at the present time.

Gyros To Sponsor Dance Group Here January 23

The Penticton Gyro Club will sponsor the Kay Armstrong Dance Theatre for a one-night performance in Penticton on Saturday, January 23. The group of ten dancing stars, selected from the B.C. Dance Festival and B.C. Ballet Festival, will present a program of folk dances, comedy and story numbers on the stage of the high school gymnasium.

The Kay Armstrong Dance Theatre will make the Penticton appearance as a preview to a sponsored tour through the central west.

High School Players Present Plays Tomorrow

Penticton's drama lovers are in for a treat tomorrow night when the Pen HI Players present their first production of the year. It will be held at the school auditorium, commencing at 3 p.m.

It will consist of three one-act plays: The Romance of the Willow Pattern, Campbell of Kilmoir and The Marriage Proposal.

The Romance of the Willow Pattern is set in China and is the story portrayed on willow pattern chinaware. Campbell of Kilmoir is a tragedy which occurs in Scotland, just after the rebellion of 1745. The Marriage Proposal is a comedy, set in Russia, and affords great enjoyment.

The Romance of the Willow Pattern is directed by Miss P. Gwyer while the other plays are directed by J. Y. Halerow.

Mrs. E. Scott is in charge of makeup and costumes are under the surveillance of Miss M. Young.

Council Waives Trade Licenses For Blind

Amendment of the trades license bylaw to authorize waiving of trades license fees for any business operated by a registered blind person such waiver to be at the discretion of City Council was approved by City Council on Monday.

This decision followed the appeal of R. W. Goldreich, backed up by a letter from the C.I.B. and the Institute's local representative, J. C. Homblin, for exemption from trades license tax of the hospital concession stand, operated by Mr. Goldreich.

Moosejaw Family Buys Summerland Acreage

SUMMERLAND — Harold E. Hansen, of Moosejaw, has bought part of the Cordy-Huddleston orchard and is at present living in an auto court preparatory to building a house on the property.

Mr. and Mrs. Hansen have two daughters and are being welcomed here. They are new to orcharding and its problems.

Church Circle Plans To Cater At Banquet

Plans to serve the AOTS banquet on January 21 were discussed when the Good Companions Circle of the Penticton United Church held its January meeting on Wednesday in the church hall. Mrs. Harold Greenslade presided during the session.

Reports of the past year were read during the afternoon; it was shown that the circle had made eleven visits to the ill and shut-in members.

The next meeting of the Good Companions Circle will be held on February 3 at the church manse with Mrs. Ernest Rands as hostess.

Following the adjournment of the meeting a pleasant social period was concluded by the serving of refreshments.

Business And Professional Women's Club Sponsoring Annual Tea On Saturday

One of the popular January social events, the Penticton Business and Professional Women's annual tea, will be held on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Canadian Legion Hall under the convenship of Mrs. I. K. Campbell and Mrs. R. H. Gibbs.

A number of attractions have been arranged for the early-year tea party. Mrs. Ken Balla is in charge of the four door prizes; Miss Adelaide Evans will convene the sale of homecooking and candy, and Miss Betty Kendall has gathered a wide and varied selection of miscellaneous articles for the "White Elephant" booth in which will also be featured a sale of small potted plants.

Colorful and attractive table decorations are being arranged by Miss Grace d'Aoust and among those invited to preside during the afternoon are the presidents of a number of the city women's organizations and Mrs. C. Oscar Matson, wife of Penticton's mayor.

Among the many BP Club members assuming the convenship of the various committees are Miss Muriel Young in charge of the kitchen details; Mrs. J. Connell Cooper, publicity; Mrs. E. G. Freer, servitors; Miss Margaret McAtstocker and Miss Agnes Hill, refreshments. Mrs. H. B. Morley is convener of the sale of tickets which may be purchased from any club member or at the door during the tea hours.

Highlight. One of the highlights of the Fontana of Rome collection is this ball gown, of sheer yellow shantung organza, embroidered with iridescent shells.

Ronald Young And Bride, Former, Suzanne Parnell, Will Reside In Victoria

Ronald Stewart Young, formerly of Penticton and now stationed at Esquimalt with the Royal Canadian Navy, and his bride, the former Suzanne Norah Kathleen Parnell, have taken up residence in Victoria following their honeymoon trip to Seattle.

They exchanged marriage vows on December 30 at a double ring ceremony in St. John's Anglican Church, Vancouver, where white chrysanthemums and evergreen boughs were massed to form a lovely setting.

Rev. C. P. Bishop officiated for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. C. Parnell, North Vancouver, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. M. Young, of this city.

While the register was being signed, the groom's sister, Mrs. George Kent, sang "O Perfect Love".

The bride, who entered the church on her father's arm, was a picture in her waltz-length white tulle gown with overskirt of filmy nylon net paneled with lace. Over the strapless bodice, she wore a brief lace jacket featuring a high wing collar and bracelet length sleeves, while her chapel veil cascaded from a white feather cap. She wore white satin pumps. Scarlet poinsettias and white stephanotis formed her bouquet.

Mrs. Bill Parnell, who attended her sister-in-law, chose a ballerina length gown of pale blue lace and nylon net over pink tulle with matching lace cap, net stole and slippers. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, violets and purple heather.

The groom had Eric Boulton, of Penticton, as bestman, while ushers were Bill Parnell, brother of the bride, and George Kent, brother-in-law of the groom.

The Thunderbird Room, Capilano Road, North Vancouver, was the scene of the reception, at which a buffet supper was served. White chrysanthemums formed a setting for the three-tier wedding cake.

P. C. Stevenson, cousin of the bride, proposed the toast. For the honeymoon trip, Mrs. Young donned an Ancient Douglas tartan suit with powder blue hat, navy blue purse and shoes, and white gloves. She had a gardenia corsage.

Among the many guests at the wedding were the groom's parents, Mrs. A. J. Patterson and Mrs. Mary Dunn, all of this city; Miss Mary McKay and Miss Helen Ruppel, Penticton students residing in Vancouver.

Two Okanagan Falls Brownies "Fly Up"

OKANAGAN FALLS — At the annual Girl Guide and Brownie Christmas party, held in the Institute Hall, December 11, at Okanagan Falls, division commissioner, Mrs. A. E. Bonnett, presented Valerie Sinclair and Sara Wilson with their Brownie wings. Guide Captain, Mrs. Thelma Godkin, then welcomed the girls into the Guide Company.

Neaves-Gibson Rites Solemnized At St. Saviour's

A white Bible crested with pink rosebuds was carried by Carole Gibson to accent her beige colored suit with pink accessories, worn when she became the bride of William Alexander Neaves on Saturday evening in St. Saviour's Anglican Church.

Baskets of white chrysanthemums and pastel colored snapdragons decorated the church chancel to provide a lovely setting for the ceremony performed by Rev. A. H. Eagles for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gibson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Neaves.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Maureen Gibson, wearing a brown suit with turquoise accessories and carrying a colonial bouquet styled of carnations.

Sam Drossos was bestman and ushering were Max Collins and William Raptis.

At the reception held in the Glenarry Room at the Hotel Prince Charles, the toast to the bride, was proposed by Kenneth Hammett. Servitors were Miss Frances May, Miss Dorothy Hall, Miss Irene Johnston and Miss Beverly Clarke.

On their return from a motor trip honeymoon to Spokane, Mr. and Mrs. Neaves will take up residence in Penticton.

Among the out of town guests present were Mrs. Glen Campbell, Miss Margaret Tompkins, Miss Julia Bowser, Miss Donna McLaren, Miss Lois Carr, Miss Mimi O'Shea and Miss Jenn Playart, all of Vancouver.

Senior Citizens Installs Harry Oke, President

A record number was in attendance at the meeting of the Senior Citizens' Club on Tuesday afternoon in the Canadian Legion Hall when Harry Oke was installed president for the ensuing year. Seventy-two were present among whom were Mrs. C. Oscar Matson and Mrs. Matson, who both spoke briefly following the installation of Mr. Oke and other 1954 officers.

Of particular interest at the meeting was recognition of Mrs. E. W. Unwin for her outstanding contributions to the social activities of the senior citizens' group. Mrs. Unwin, who has been instrumental in arranging interesting and entertaining programs for the monthly meetings of the club, was made an honorary member of the organization.

Mrs. Unwin extended an invitation to the members of the Senior Citizens' Club from the local film council to attend the showing of films on Monday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. in the United Church Hall. A picture of the Coronation and two shorts will be presented at that time.

Following the adjournment of the business of the afternoon the regular monthly birthday cake was cut during refreshment time in honor of anniversary celebrants, Mrs. Mary Daniels, Mrs. A. Wicken, Andy Johnson, Antoinette Metz and R. W. Rowley.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. (Jack) White returned home on Sunday after a holiday visit in Vancouver last week.

Gift Handkerchiefs From England To Be Distributed To IODE "Adopted Schools"

A Christmas gift of handkerchiefs, depicting historical scenes in England, received by the Diamond Jubilee Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, from Mrs. J. Lucas, of Barking, Essex, will be distributed as prizes among the pupils of the chapter's three "adopted" schools at Olalla, Tulameen and Coalmont.

Mrs. Lucas was the recipient of one of the IODE food parcels sent to England at Christmas time under the supervision of the convener of Canadian services at home and abroad, Mrs. Ian Sutherland. The decision to afford the children the pleasure of the beautifully painted handkerchiefs was made following a report presented on the gift by Mrs. Sutherland at the monthly meeting of the Diamond Jubilee Chapter held last Tuesday afternoon with the regent, Mrs. Neil McElroy, presiding.

Acknowledgment of appreciation in another Yuletide gift was received from Captain W. J. Manly, of the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade in Korea, who had supervised the distribution of the IODE parcels to the Canadian troops in the east.

Mrs. E. W. A. Cooper, educational secretary, reported on the gifts of candy, apples and games sent to the three "adopted schools" and on the complete set of the Books of Knowledge donated by Mrs. H. H. Boyle to the Coalmont School. This year 170 IODE calendars have been distributed to classrooms of the district schools.

Mrs. J. L. Palethorpe read letters of appreciation from disabled veterans to whom parcels had been sent at Christmas.

The report from the nominating committee was received during the afternoon. The choosing of a 1954 slate of officers will be made at the annual meeting to be held on February 2 at 2:30 p.m. in the Hotel Prince Charles. Annual reports will also be submitted at that time. Members of the nominating committee were Mrs. H. E. Chalmers, Mrs. W. S. Reeder and Mrs. A. J. Cowie.

Mrs. H. E. Chalmers, convener of the current TE Seals committee, reported the very successful campaign will conclude for this year on January 30 and expressed the hope that anyone wishing to contribute to the fund will do so before that date.

Plans were finalized for the annual luncheon meeting to be held in the Hotel Prince Charles at 1 p.m. on February 12 when the installation of the 1954 slate of IODE officers will take place.

Following the adjournment of the meeting a very interesting address was given by Mrs. George Kingsley on "Immigration and Canadianization". Tea was served by Mrs. F. Donald Corry.

Missionary From Japan To Speak In St. Saviour's

Rev. Harold J. McSherry, B.A., B.D., an Anglican Church missionary on his first furlough in Canada from Hiroshima, Japan, will address a meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday evening in St. Saviour's Anglican Church here.

Mr. McSherry, who was born in Liverpool, England, graduated from Emmanuel College, University of Saskatchewan in 1944. He was ordained and served in the Diocese of Athabasca as rector of Beaver Lodge from 1944 to 1948 and volunteered for service in Japan in 1950.

The speaker served under the Bishop of Mid-Japan at Hiroshima and it is of his experience there that he will speak while in this city. Mr. McSherry has been on a speaking tour of other valley centres and will be returning to Japan soon. This will probably be the only opportunity the people will have of meeting him and hearing of the work of the Japanese Church at Hiroshima.

Water Color Artist Visits Summerland

SUMMERLAND — An interesting visitor over the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Whitaker was Miss Sophia Atkinson, of Revelstoke, the well-known water color artist. Miss Atkinson, who spent some time in England last year, had exhibitions at B.C. House in London, at the Oxford Arts Council, and in the North of England. Her pictures have been exhibited in Summerland on more than one occasion when they have been enjoyed and admired.

ANDY BENNIE AGAIN HEADS CITY ARTHRITIS, RHEUMATISM GROUP

Andy Bennie was re-elected president of Penticton branch, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, at the annual meeting in the Legion Hall, Monday night. Mr. Bennie was also named as delegate to the provincial meeting in Vancouver and was thanked for his inspiring leadership during the past year.

Representatives of other local clubs and from Oliver and Summerland attended.

The physiotherapist's report showed 729 patients treated during the year, a substantial increase over last year. Of this number, 386 were treated at the hospital clinic and 343 at their homes. A total of 2,848 treatments were administered by Miss Hazel Southard and she drove nearly 11,000 miles in her work.

Opening of a small room at Oliver hospital enabled her to treat more people in that district where she can spend only one morning each week.

A number of non-arthritis cases, such as polio, were also treated in addition to the figures quoted.

In his annual report, president Bennie referred specifically to the fund-raising drive which had resulted in collection of $6247 in Penticton, Cawston, Keremeos, Naramata, Summerland, Kaleden, Oliver and Osoyoos. $2351 was collected in Penticton, $914 in Summerland and $914 in Oliver.

Mr. Bennie expressed gratitude for the help given by the executive and many others, particularly the Canadian Legion and volunteer drivers.

Regret was expressed that the medical body has declined to invite CARS visiting specialists to attend the local clinic. It was pointed out that sufferers wishing to consult a specialist must face a painful journey to Vancouver and pay a consultant's fee.

Besides Mr. Bennie, the executive consists of E. W. A. Cooper, vice-president; E. P. Corner, secretary; Miss A. Evans, treasurer; executive members, Mrs. E. L. Boulbee, F. G. Pye, J. A. Young, C. M. Finnis, P. K. Simpson, W. H. Morris, Mrs. Anna Mason, Mrs. Ruth Stone, Mrs. J. K. Anderson, Dr. H. P. Barr, Dr. W. A. Wickett and Dr. D. C. Boyd. Representing Oliver are Mrs. Jar-

Electrical Union Submits Points For Negotiation

City Council, as a whole, will constitute the negotiating committee which will meet with officials of the electrical workers' union on January 29 to discuss terms of a new agreement for 1954.

The electrical workers' demands were submitted to council, Monday. They are for three weeks' holiday with pay after ten years' service; sick leave pay after three months' service, with MSA and BCHS costs paid in full by city; discussion of article 20 of the 1953 agreement, pertaining to hours of work, provision by the city of pole belts for its linemen, and the last item listed is for parity of wages with the B.C. Electric Co. Ltd., which would necessitate a two percent increase now, and a further two percent increase to take effect on August 31 of this year.

Council received the demands without comment, but later in the meeting summarily rejected a plea from the civic employees' union for continuation of the 40-hour week in accordance with the 40-hour-week currently being enjoyed by the city's electrical workers.

This apparent discrimination arises from the omission of a termination clause for the 40-hour-week from the electrical workers' agreement. The 1953 council had no intention of the short working week continuing into 1954, but in face of the omission of the termination clause could not do anything about it. In view of this, council felt it could not accede to the civic employees' request for the 40-hour-week.

The first appreciable amount of precipitation since December 20 fell from grey skies this morning. On December 20, .51 inches of rain and snow fell.

Urge Riverside Road To Lakeshore And Highway

Connection of Lakeshore drive by a riverside road with the main highway entrance to the city at Eckhardt avenue bridge was urged upon City Council on Monday by S. E. Gulle, spokesman for more than 80 signatories to a petition.

Many Main street businessmen, Lakeshore drive auto court operators and some residents on Lakeshore drive signed the petition.

The petition was referred to the board of works committee for study and report following a brief discussion in which Mr. Gulle reminded council that the late Hon. E. C. Carson, had proposed to put in a secondary highway, along with the bridges, when the new highway entrance from the north was created. It was this original intent, recorded in the minutes of the Board of Trade, which led Mr. Gulle and other signatories to believe that the provincial government would give assistance to construction of the secondary road along the river bank, linking up Lakeshore Drive and providing a scenic route.

The petition follows: We, the undersigned, respectfully petition the Penticton City Council that during 1954 they extend Lakeshore Drive along the river bank to Eckhardt Avenue bridge, thus completing the proposed riverside drive. We believe that this extension is urgently needed because the recent re-location of the Provincial Highway has by-passed the downtown business area and the Okanagan Lake beach, which is one of our main tourist attractions. The economic effect of this by-pass is already being adversely felt to some degree and it could become a very serious matter in the near future.

We submit that the tourist industry already plays a vital part in our local economy and that with our natural advantages it is one industry which is capable of almost unlimited expansion. It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that this natural advantage should be readily accessible to all, and we further submit a driveway would in itself become a beautiful scenic asset to the community. We understand that the City of Penticton already owns a one-hundred foot right-of-way along the river bank so that one major item of cost involving real estate purchases is already eliminated. We also understand that representation to the provincial government for assistance towards the cost of construction could well receive a favorable reception. In view of the above, we trust that the Penticton Council will, in their wisdom, see fit to give this petition every consideration.

HITCHHIKING FAMILY GIVEN HELPING HAND

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bell and their two youngsters, Wayne, 3, and Jay, 2, broke but bent on hitchhiking to Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, arrived in Penticton late yesterday after thumbing their way from Vancouver.

The Bells, who insisted on continuing their journey late yesterday, despite lack of money and inclement weather, finally yielded to generosity of Penticton, were fed and put up for the night at the Valley Hotel. They were scheduled to continue their journey today.

Leaving Vancouver Monday, the family got as far as Hope that day and were lodged for the night in a motel. Yesterday, they made the jump over Allison Pass and to Penticton by means of two rides.

Mr. Bell, who claims he has many trades, is down on his luck after a series of misfortunes. He has tried his hand at many things in many cities.

Things went no better for him at the coast. "For the past year we lived on things I sold from the home," Mr. Bell related.

The final blow fell when he was involved in an accident and, unable to pay the fine, landed in jail.

"Somebody paid my fine and I just left my truck where it was, impounded," said Mr. Bell.

"But we don't blame British Columbia or the people," he concluded. "It's just that we don't want to impose on anybody. There was no other way to do it than this way. We don't want to beg, and as long as we have life, we'll get out and rustle."

Last Rites Here For C. Reddeck

Funeral services were held at Penticton Funeral Chapel, on Monday, for Charles Reddeck, who passed away January 3 in North Vancouver, at the age of 72.

He is survived by two brothers, Clarence, Caroline, Alta.; Ernest, High Point, North Carolina; one niece, Mrs. C. Pollard, Penticton. Reverend Ernest Rands, officiated at funeral services, with committal at Lakeview Cemetery.

Lady Fletcher Canadian Club Guest Speaker

Guest speaker at the Canadian Club meeting tomorrow night at 6:30 p.m., in the Hotel Prince Charles, is Lady Fletcher, noted traveller and lecturer. Her topic will be "Africa in Travail".

Lady Fletcher, who spoke here three years ago, has been brought back because of her speaking ability and the importance of her subject.

Born in Russia, of Russian-French parentage, she was educated on the continent and in England. She spent the period between the two wars with her husband, who was in the British diplomatic service.

In 1945, she was a principal welfare worker for UNRRA, and was in charge of the welfare part of Belsen when it became a D.P. camp.

She has spent some years in Africa, and last summer visited the Mau-Mau country in Kenya.

Renews Efforts To Bar Theatre Company From Skaha Lake

Suggestion that the old tennis court grounds on Brunswick street should be made available to the Lancaster Theatre Company for location of its Theatre Under the Stars, as an alternative to the site at Skaha Lake was contained in a letter to Mayor Oscar Milson, received Monday from Mrs. R. B. White of Skaha Lake.

Mrs. White, who opposed the theatre under the stars being located at Skaha Lake last summer, was not against the theatre company as such, but argued that the beach park was no place for the makeshift building, which she termed "unsightly". She also contended the theatre company had not done so well financially at Skaha Lake and that, perhaps, the thespians would do better in a more central location.

Council, however, felt that the issue signed last year provided for removal of the existing location where the company had invested considerable money. Furthermore, council was of the opinion that the company was providing something that was needed during the summer season and could see no reason to object to renewal of the lease when applied for.

He worked in the construction department of KVR from 1910 until 1915 and in the train operating department for the following 10 years.

Mr. Ferguson will commence annual vacation after tomorrow and transfer to pension, February 1.

Creston Pioneer E. C. Gibbs Dies In Hospital Here

A member of the first Board of Village Commissioners at Creston, and a postmaster at that centre for 20 years, Edward Clement Gibbs, passed away in Penticton Hospital last Saturday, at the age of 73 years.

Born in Bournemouth, England, he had resided in Canada for the past 42 years and in Penticton for 27 years.

He is survived by his loving wife, Florence; two sons, Ronald, North Vancouver; Richard, Penticton; one daughter, Ruth Margaret, at home; three sisters, Mrs. S. C. Fox, Vancouver; Mrs. Katherine Gibbs, Vancouver; Mrs. F. W. Ash, Creston.

Funeral services were held in Penticton Funeral Chapel this afternoon. Reverend Ernest Rand officiating. Committal service, Lakeview Cemetery.

Thugs Rob City Woman In Home

Two thugs, one of them with a black cloth concealing a portion of his face, bargained with elderly Mrs. H. Hilton, 681 Winnipeg street, over how much they would steal from her, when they invaded the home Friday night. They wanted $10 but took only $5.

Mrs. Hilton, 86, was alone at the time, her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Finnis, having gone out for the evening. She was preparing for bed when she heard a noise in the basement.

Suddenly two men appeared and one of them, with a cloth over his face, pointed a black object at her and warned, "Give me $10 or you'll get this."

Mrs. Hilton pleaded for time to get her dressing gown and told the men she would give them the money. However, on going to her purse, she discovered that it contained only $9, made up of a $5 and two $2's.

"We'll take $5 instead," said the robbers, and then threatened, "don't dare tell a soul."

Immediately after they fled, Mrs. Hilton received two phone calls from family friends but was frightened to tell them what had happened. It wasn't until about midnight, when Mr. and Mrs. Finnis returned home, that police were phoned.

Sir Ernest Rutherford successfully transmitted wireless signals to a moving train as early as 1902.

New Post Office To Be Built At West Summerl'd

SUMMERLAND — Gordon Ritchie, owner of the property now occupied by the West Summerland Post Office, has received permission from the department of public works to go ahead with the construction of a new post office.

The site of the new building will be on the vacant lot between the present post office and the Munro block. It will be built of pumice block and will necessitate the removal of the dwelling attached to the back part of the post office and also the office of Lorne Perry.

It is not known as yet when construction will start on the building that will enhance West Summerland's business district by 40 feet of new frontage.

Peachland Jottings

PEACHLAND—Mrs. E. Young who has been visiting with Mrs. B. Dalgren at Portland, Oregon, for the past month is once more home.

Fire early Sunday morning razed the home of Bob Tilton, at Trepanier, while he was visiting his daughter. The fire occurred at around 3 a.m. Among other losses were a large number of paintings and family heirlooms.

A joint meeting of the congregations of the Baptist and United Church of Peachland was held on Wednesday in the United Church to observe universal Week of Prayer. Rev. K. Knight gave the address while Rev. G. G. Harris conducted the service of worship and prayer.

The Peachland local of the B.C. FGA held a meeting last Wednesday in the Municipal Hall to consider the convention resolutions and instruct delegates of their wishes.

The local representatives in the high school bonspiel to be held this year in Trail, on January 21, 22, 23, are Don Topham, Vern Ferguson, Bev. Trautman and Lloyd Craft. Kenny Fulk has offered transportation.

The Peachland Municipal council held its inaugural meeting on January 4. Reeve G. W. Hawksley, councillors A. E. Miller and H. Birkland, were sworn in by municipal clerk C. Haker. Committees appointed were, water department, H. Birkland; roads, A. E. Miller; property, L. Ayers; finance, P. Khalambach.

The junior bonspiel got underway Saturday morning with 10 very enthusiastic rinks taking part. The kids enjoyed a coke party Saturday night. "A" event was won by skip Donnie Cousins, third, Gordon Turner, second, Roger Knohlauch, lead, Lois Doll. B event by skip, George Topham, third, Bernice Wiberg, second, Mike Turner, lead, Jimmie Oakes; C by skip, Allen McKinnon, third, Bobby Siegrist second, Dennis Wiberg, lead, Gordon Surtees.

Mrs. J. Mohler has returned after a very nice visit in Calgary.

Doris Knohlauch, who is a nurse in training at Vancouver, is home on holidays.

L. B. Fulk left for a short visit in Vancouver.

The Peachland Curling Club will hold its annual club 'spiel on January 23 and 24. Entry fee is $6 per rink.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Witt have returned after having spent Christmas in Modesto, California.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Kraft spent a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. Stack at Rock Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stack have returned after several weeks spent visiting relatives in Regina, Saskatchewan.

The first meeting of the Peachland Cub Pack got underway in the school basement with a very good turnout under Agela Birkland and Balloo Turner. There is still room for a few more boys to fill the sixes.

TWINS BORN ON CNR TRAIN — KAMLOOPS — Twin girls who never got on a train got off recently. And if you're puzzled, here's the story:

Mrs. Eva Fowler, a native woman accompanying the Kitwano-Canadian National Railways train at Terrace, following a concert. Shortly afterwards, she gave birth to twins, the first at 1:20 a.m. and the second 15 minutes later.

Conductor W. H. "Billy" Essex was assisted by mid-wife Florence Tait who was accompanying the party. An ambulance met the mother and her twins at the station and took them to hospital at Hazelton.

Kelowna's Government Building To Be One Of Finest In B.C.

KELOWNA — The new provincial government building to be constructed opposite the City Hall on the lakefront will be one of the finest in the interior and will cost around $500,000.

This was stated by Premier W. A. C. Bennett at the board of trade dinner meeting, January 5. The Premier made the observation when he said that Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi had issued instructions that the structure be given top priority. Tenders will be called by spring and construction will get underway as soon as the contract is awarded.

In introducing Premier Bennett, Mayor J. J. Ladd observed that Kelowna has been waiting since 1949 for a government building, and that the city had taken steps to provide the necessary property.

In reply, Mr. Bennett said that soon after he became Premier, he found no authority had been given to make the necessary survey and that no plans had been drafted.

In explaining the delay since his administration took over, Mr. Bennett said test holes had been drilled and that due to the type of soil, the building will cost more than at first anticipated. Various government departments had been consulted, and now it is found that more office space is required than at first planned.

He quoted a letter from P. A. Gagliardi, public works minister, to the effect that the minister has requested his department to give top priority to the structure.

"The building is long overdue and you're not getting it because I'm premier. It's the fulfillment of a long-standing promise. But I want to assure you the only reason for the delay is due to the revised building plans. As your member I've been pressing for the building."

He then touched lightly on education costs and said the equalized assessment plan will be put into effect which should help municipalities considerably in 1955.

The speaker also explained the government's plan for implementing the new liquor system which paves the way for cocktail bars in B.C. Four types of licences will be granted, but stringent regulations will be adopted. The government is endeavoring to carry out the Stevens Report, and a sincere effort will be made to make the act workable.

Keremeos Notes

The dining room, to be known as the Sirrocco Room and the cafeteria of the Keremeos Hotel is now under the management of Mrs. E. Martin, of Vancouver.

At home for the Christmas holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Raab, was their elder daughter, Miss Eleanor Raab, who until recently was employed at St. Martin's Hospital in Oliver. Miss Raab, who has joined the RCAF, left on Monday for St. John's, Quebec, where she will be stationed. A large farewell party in the Elks' Home, on Friday evening honored a popular member of the younger set.

St. John's Anglican Guild members met on Wednesday afternoon in the church hall; reports were submitted and the program for the year drafted. Mrs. E. Vansant was hostess. The president-elect, Mrs. W. Liddcoat, was in the chair and Miss J. Dugdale recorded.

Mrs. J. C. Clarke and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. C. Clarke were joint hostesses at a card party in the church hall in aid of St. John's Anglican Guild on Monday evening. Prize winners for the evening were, Mrs. F. Bell, five hundred, Mrs. Le Brun and bridge, Mr. J. A. McKay.

Art Reimche has purchased the Ben Brown property on the south side of town.

W. B. Stewart is a patient in Penticton Hospital, where he has undergone a major operation.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Overton have received word from their daughter, Doreen, who is with the RCAF that she has been posted to Clinton, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Miller have left to reside in New Westminster. A. R. Maynard of Penticton has taken over the management of the B-A Oil Garage on the Hope-Penticton Highway.

A fire in the home of A. J. Reimche was extinguished before the arrival of the Volunteer Fire Brigade, who, as usual, responded immediately to a call.

Interesting visitors during the holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Raab were the Misses Elsa and Vicky Lassally and Miss Martha Vasquez of San Salvador, who are currently attending St. Ann's Academy in Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. Raab's guests were entertained at several parties in

BY SID GODBER

News from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association meeting held this weekend in Winnipeg, that the Allan Cup finals will, as originally scheduled, come west this season is of more than academic interest to the Okanagan and to Penticton in particular.

There was a move afoot to have the finals played again in the east, the hockey moguls evidently looking with avaricious eyes at last season's Allan Cup take. Don't know how true it is, but Dr. Mel Butler, BCHA president, is said to have gone to the meeting very hostile to the suggestion, hostile enough to threaten to take B.C. out of the CAHA and switch to semi-professional. No empty threat, at that, the senior hockey setup is ideal. Whether or not Butler went that far, I don't know, but whatever persuasion was used, the attempt to take the finals east has fizzled out, and B.C. will be the venue of the western Canadian finals with the Allan Cup finals likely in the home province of the western champion.

If it's a B.C. team I certainly think the cup finals should also be played in B.C. but I suppose if not, we must be thankful for small mercies. It is something to get the western final here, it could, have been scheduled any place from Winnipeg on. As it is the series will be played in B.C. and I think that means the Okanagan; will see some of the Western final games.

I'm confident it will be a OSAHL team that will make the western finals and the Penticton V's look at this stage of the game as likely contenders. It's no pipe dream on the V's present showing — so look for some of the western final games to be played in our own backyard, and who knows — maybe even a final game or two.

Yes, it's a dream, but a dream evolved from a hard core of facts, but maybe it would be well not to dream too much — hockey playoffs being what they are.

It's still mathematically possible for the Vernon Canadians to finish up in top place, but mathematics are one thing and hockey teams quite another. After last week it is safe to name the V's as number one in the OSAHL. It isn't as easy to pick the second place winners. Looks as if all three teams, Packers, Elks and Canadians will be battling for that second spot almost up to the wire.

Rise and fall of the Vernon Canadians is something in the nature of a mystery. There's more to it than meets the eye. Noticed a significant remark by one of Vernon's sports columnists to the effect that fans won't back a team that isn't trying. An unhappy dressing room rather than lack of ability could explain the Canadians' downhill plunge.

There was discussion up at Kamloops, but the Elks seem to have buried the hatchet and are starting to roll. That was a big win for the V's last Friday. The Elks weren't pushovers. Score was no indication of the play and most fans are saying it was the best hockey game of the season to date. The "pony" line as coach Warwick calls it, sure came through with the goods. Ken Ulyot must have been a very frustrated man. The potent Warwick, Warlick, McIntyre line was held scoreless and the McDonald, Fairbairn, Rucks trio checked almost to a standstill so the pony line galloped for three goals and for good measure the defence slapped in a couple to add up to the worst defeat the Elks have suffered in three seasons of hockey.

Seems coach Warwick's third line troubles are ended. I can't see him splitting up Dick Warwick, Doug Kilburn and Don Berry, although there's no telling just what the coach will do. He's done considerable juggling of lines and players this season and it has paid off — look at the league standings, but it does look, now, as if he has found his third line. I doubt if any line in this league has a brainier centre than Warwick the younger.

Illustrating one of the big reasons I'm plunking for the V's to go places again this season was the remark of Ivan McLelland after the game last Friday. Said Ivan, "that wasn't my shutout, it was the defence did it. They didn't leave me a real tough one to handle all night, McAvoy and Conway were terrific — did you notice they hardly let me get a shot, except from bad angles? Concluded Ivan, "if you're going to give anyone credit for that shutout, give it to the defence — it was theirs, not mine."

That's the kind of team spirit and the kind of feeling there is in the V's dressing room. I'll go along with McLelland, the defence was terrific — but I don't think Ivan needs to be bashful about taking credit for the shutout — he did his part, apart altogether from his assist on Conway's goal.

That was some goal. I saw Conway shoot, then heard the puck smack into the net, but I didn't see it. I felt sorry for Al Laface all over again. Stopping one of Conway's specials in the face is not to be recommended.

Never saw a hockey crowd in better humor than when they went to coffee after the second period. Dino Mascotto's undisguised joy at lighting the red lamp was contagious. Nothing blase about Dino.

Another indication of how players feel. Someone commented it was too bad Bill Warwick didn't add a few points to his imposing total. Bill's comeback, "What's that matter, we got the two points that count."

What I wrote some time back in one of the hockey programs is being substantiated. Then I said that if the opposition would let the V's play hockey they'd go through anything in this league. It was hockey, the other night, only three penalties, all innocuous, and only one to the V's.

Still wish we had two referees. Remember Creighton charging Bill Warwick in the back? Nelson didn't see it, but linesman Loyd Gilmore did but Loyd couldn't do anything about it, but suppose Bill had turned on Creighton, there was justification enough. Nelson would have seen the retaliation and it would have been another penalty for the V's. It has happened so many times — and nothing but two referees will stop it.

Touring Spokane Flyers Here Friday

Penticton V's play host to the Spokane Flyers here on Friday as the American club makes its second swing through the Okanagan this season. By the time they hit Penticton ice the Flyers will have run the gauntlet of Vernon, Kamloops and Kelowna, a trip that will do nothing to enhance their striking power.

Omegas Lose To Kelowna In Hard Luck Hoop Tilt

Cranna's Omegas went down to a 62-57 defeat at the hands of Kelowna Oilers in a close contest that gave the Kelowna fans more than their money's worth in the northern city Saturday night.

Playing without the services of coaches Bill Raptis and Earl Pearson, the Omegas put in a great showing with Bill Johnston and Aubrey Powell, each hooping 12 points. Lady Luck was the deciding factor in the tilt as she seemingly shrunk the Kelowna basket in the last frame. Although the Penticton squad outplayed and outshot the Kelowna five, their shots would only roll around the rim and fall out.

Mickey Martino, an out of town, who just signed up with the Kelowna team, set the pace for Oilers notching 25 points. The first quarter saw the Omegas out in front 16-12. Kelowna then had their turn, outscoring Cranna's with a half time score of 29-29. In past games, win or lose, the third quarter has proved to be the Penticton's squad's jinx quarter. It held true in this fixture as Kelowna went ahead 48-41. The final frame saw the Omegas come back strong but the ball just would not stay in the Kelowna hoop.

Time ran out on the surging Penticton crew and the scoreboard registered 62-57 margin for Kelowna at the final horn.

SUMMARY
Penticton — Bennett 10, Johnston 12, Guillauboux 2, Kluck 9, Jordan 8, Holmes 1, Powell 12, Jeffries 3. Total — 57.
Kelowna — Smeeth, Tostenson, Butcher 9, McNaughton 2, Bail, Brydon 7, Boggess 3, Thompson 2, Martino 25, Gee 4. Total — 62.

Pen Hi Lakers Continue Winning Ways: Defeated Oliver Saturday

The Pen Hi Lakers are continuing to drown all opposition in the senior A division of the high school basketball league as they knocked over the Oliver Green Hornets 55-31 here last Saturday.

The Lakers are looking better every time out as coach Boyd rounds out his team for the coming playoffs in the valley championships and finally the B.C. championships in the U.B.C. gym at Vancouver.

The boys on the squad that looked out of the class at the beginning of the year are now starting to score points and the high school squad appears to be one of the most well balanced teams to come on the scene in the past few years.

Ted Bowsfield, captain of the Lakers, finally came back into his old familiar style as he racked up his biggest night of the year with fifteen points passing through the hoop.

Gordy May, big centre, accomplished his best night of the season as he performed two-man sized tasks. The first and most important as far as the rest of the team was concerned was keeping Oliver's key man, Bob Radles, out of the score column. Gordy did this very efficiently as Bob only scored eight points and all of these were free throws. Besides this, Gordy scored fourteen points while being checked by Radles.

Ray Teare also had a good night for the opposition as he potted seven points during the game.

Set Table Tennis Tournament For Saturday, Jan. 23

The Skaha Lake Tennis and Country Club are completing arrangements for their second annual table tennis tournament and are looking for another big success that welcomed the first year's competitors.

Ted Cardinal announced the date as Saturday, January 23 with the first five events getting underway in the old high school gym at about 5:30 in the evening.

All of last year's winners will be back defending the trophies they carried off in 1953. Among the defenders will be Wally Morgan and Stella Crease, singles champions in the men's and ladies' doubles and mixed doubles also, with trophies for all competitors.

The formation of the Poplar Grove Table Tennis Club this year is expected to spark the competition and a bigger entry is expected for the 1954 ping pong championships.

DOUG KILBURN

DICK WARWICK

DON BERRY

A SPARKLING COMBINATION has been put together by V's playing coach Grant Warwick as the stellar performance of Doug Kilburn, Dick Warwick and Don Berry proved Friday night. The "pony line", as they call them, tallied up eight points in the shutout game against Elks with three assists to Kilburn, a pair of goals for Berry and a singleton marker and two scoring helpers for Dick Warwick.

Second Shutout For Ivan As V's Blank Elks Friday

INCLUDING GAMES PLAYED TUESDAY, JANUARY 12
	GP	W	L	T	GF	GA	PIM	PTS
Penticton V's	42	28	12	2	172	130	858	58
Vernon Canadians	42	21	18	3	203	187	432	45
Kamloops Elks	43	16	23	4	170	190	449	36
Kelowna Packers	44	16	27	1	174	208	513	33

*Penalty time includes games at January 8 only.
A shutout is usually considered top performance for a goal tender but Friday night V custodian, Ivan McLelland went one better than that — he earned an assist on a goal by Kev Conway as the Warwick men blanked Kamloops Elks 6-0. The trailing Elks were saved in the first period by the fabulous work of goalie Hal Gordon but his luck wore thin in the sandwich session as the V's found the range for four markers and added two more in the final canto.

SPARKLES
The newly formed "kid line" of the V's — Doug Kilburn, Dick Warwick and Don Berry — sparked for the full sixty minutes. A packed house let them have the full force of pent up applause at 4:28 of the second period as Dick Warwick opened the scoring with a backhand shot that never gave Gordon a chance, as defenceman Ron Montgomery and Kilburn shunted the rubber into position.

A Kilburn inspired power play at the halfway mark saw Berry wink the red light on a relay from Dick and seven minutes later Berry made it 3-0 for V's as he rifled home a long pass from little Dick. The home town fans thundered approval of the goal but added that extra volume of shouting for the trio's stellar performance.

GOAL FOR DINO
But the fans never roared louder than they did for Dino Mascotto as he rifled a Kilburn relay from just inside the blue line that socked the twine waist-high, behind Gordon with less than a minute to go.

Rifle Club Elect Jim Burns Prexy At Annual Meet

Jim Burns was elected president of BCD's Rifle Association Penticton Club, at the general annual meeting of the group held last Sunday in the armory.

Other officers holding office for the year are Bill Goodman, vice-president; Reg Greenwood, secretary; Les Wyles, butts of floor; Walt Cousins, chief range officer.

The report of the past year showed the club to be in a healthy position and the annual financial report testified to a sound condition.

One of the main points of new business was discussion of relocating the range. The lease of Kaleden estate property was not renewed this year and consideration of alternatives was thrown open to the meeting. More definite information on a new range site is expected early in February.

Jim Burns and Reg Greenwood were elected to represent the Penticton club at the annual meeting of the B.C. Inland Rifle Association, to be held Sunday in Kelowna. Walt Cousins will also attend the meeting as its president.

Penticton club president Jim Burns was chosen as a delegate to attend the executive meeting of the parent body B.C. Rifle Association which is slated for Vancouver early in February.

Correspondence

The Editor, Penticton Herald.

It would appear to many that Penticton has no sportsmanship at all after reading the report in Kelowna and Vernon. I see no reason why we shouldn't give credit where credit is due, without commenting on the recent actions of the hockey players I wish to pay tribute to the basketball and soccer players. They have really played the game and brought credit to the teams. In particular the soccer team, they have shown that it is not the sport that counts, but rather sportsmanship. In case you didn't realize it the soccer team recently collected $25.00 pay for an unfortunate accident which happened during a game. I only wish the other team (hockey) would be as sports minded as the soccer and basketball.

KENT ALANSON, Kelowna

Pete Guidi showed well for the losers and Bruce Hirtle played a very steady game. The locals went out in front 2-5 at half time and then were outscored 11-20 in the third quarter. They averaged this in the next frame outscoring the southerners 11-2.

Peter Evatt, champion sculler of New South Wales, lopped nine seconds off the British Empire Games' 2000-metre record to earn a berth on the Australia team that will compete in the game this summer at Vancouver, B.C.

Vancouver Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club courts will see the Canadian championships during the first week in March.

League Standings Widen As Top Teams Win Sunday

CONTRACTORS	12	5	7	0	51	55	10
GARAGEMEN	12	3	7	2	45	52	8

It was up to the Merchants and Garagemen to produce the thriller in the Commercial Hockey League action last Sunday and they did all of that in a 4-3 battle that gave the win to Merchants by virtue of a late third period marker. In the first game of the afternoon, witnessed by one of the largest crowds of the season, the Sumnerland club ran the Contractors out of contention handing them a 6-1 loss in a poorly matched fixture.

MERCHANTS GARAGEMEN
Despite a rush of hard knocks that sent Merchant players to the box with various minor hurts, the green and red kept in the running with a 4-3 triumph over last place Garagemen, Sunday.

Merchants held a 1-0 margin at the end of the first frame but lost their grip on the hard driving G-men in the second as the period closed in a 3-3 sawoff.

A big chunk of the Merchant glory goes to Bert Sealey for his winning marker late in the third period. He combined with Jim McLean and Bob Jackson at 15:10 after the deciding goal hovered on the brink of each net. At 19:17 Sealey marked an afternoon of terrific hockey with a trip to the sin bin for tripping

Tommy White opened the scoring late in the first as he converted a pass from Ben Corrigan and Doug Moore. White from Moore elected again at 30 seconds of the second frame and Moore tallied up top points for the afternoon nine minutes later as he converted a pass from Corrigan.

Dennis Wyatt was top gunner for the G-men's losing cause as he blinked the red light with a pair in the sandwich session from Mord Bird and Barry Egan. Egan and Harry Harris, Harris scored the third and final marker for G-men at 13:30 of the second on a long shot from the blue line, assists going to Bird and Jack Newton.

Penalties on both sides were light with just three minors to Merchants and two for the hapless Garagemen.

SUMMARY
First period — 1, Merchants, White (Corrigan, Moore) 10:00. Penalties — Reeder, Jackson, Collins.
Second period — 2, Merchants, White (Moore) 0:30; 3, Garagemen, Wyatt (Bird, Egan) 5:30; 4, Garagemen, Wyatt (Egan, Harris) 6:45; 5, Merchants, Moore (Corrigan) 9:30; 6, Garagemen, Harris (Bird, Newton) 13:30.

Outdoors with Cec Brett

Penticton will soon have another attraction which should add considerably to the enjoyment of outdoor enthusiasts in the district. Through the co-operation of the Wiltse family the Penticton Fish and Game club has acquired a lease of the bench on the far side of Ellis Creek for a trap and rifle range. It is an ideal location for such a project and the club is champing at the bit to get started. There is ample room for two or three traps as well as a complete skeet layout and an archery range. Rifle butts up to one thousand yards could also be accommodated without interfering with the scatter-gunners. Plans for a club house are being considered that would be large enough to service all activities at the same time and also serve as a social rendezvous for the club and other organizations. This sounds like a worthwhile project and it will not happen all at once but it is a worthwhile project and deserves the support of all sportsmen and the public in general. There will be no public appeal for financial assistance but our support and participation will help a lot.

Just in case you forget, it might be well to remind you that your 1953 fishing license expired on December 31. So, if you suddenly decide to go steelheading or fishing off the rocks, you would be wise to take out a new one. This reminds me of an amusing incident that happened over Spence's bridge just before Christmas. J. Y. Towgood, of Trout Creek, bought himself a complete steelhead spinning outfit and along with another couple tried his luck on the Thompson for the first time. He fished for a day and a half without success and the rest of the party began to have doubts as to his ability to catch fish. However, he went out alone the last afternoon to have one more try at a likely looking spot he had noticed earlier in the day. About his second cast he hooked onto a nineteen pounder and after a mighty battle managed to land it. An interested spectator came along as he was fighting the fish, admired it and congratulated him and then asked to see his fishing license. He was very embarrassed; his license was in his wallet at the cabin. So the game warden put the fish in the back of his car and drove Mr. Towgood back to the cabin and waited while he went in to get the license. Not explaining anything to the rest of the party, he grabbed his wallet and went back to the car. The family watched as he took something out and handed it to the other man who then went to the back of the car and handed him a lovely big fish. I don't know yet if he has convinced the rest of the party that he didn't buy the fish. Moral: carry your wallet with you; some day you might really need to buy a fish.

Pen Hi Hoopsters Even The Score With Kelowna In Exhibition Tilt

The Pen Hi Lakers saw the results of many weeks of intensive practice as they walloped the Kelowna High School Golden Owls 61-47, in an exhibition basketball tilt played in Kelowna last Friday.

The last visit the Lakers paid to Kelowna they were defeated, one of their two losses this year, 44-42. The Lakers have worked hard since their last defeat especially on set-ups to break the Kelowna zone defence. It paid off, repeatedly cracked the defence throughout the whole game.

The Kelowna team had hard luck around the basket all evening as the ball just wouldn't go through the hoop. They were especially weak on their rebounds. On the defense, Kelowna was only able to pick up on a handful of rebounds as Pen Hi's offensive men, May, Conley, Burch and Puddy stood out on recovery play.

The Lakers started things off with a rush in the first quarter, hoping to establish a lead and then rest for their league game with Oliver the following night. They were successful in this as they piled up a 17 to 7 lead at the end of the quarter and 42-23 by the end of the first half.

The Kelowna team tried hard to come back but were again outscored in the third quarter as Penticton's second line took over and had no trouble with the opposition's zone defence. In the fourth quarter the Owls finally started to score points and as the game became a whirlwind of speed they racked up 24 points to the Lakers 18.

Charlie Burch continued in his high scoring pattern as he led the locals with 13 points. Charlie also worked hard around the basket and picked up many rebounds.

Ted Bowsfield was second on the local squad as he pushed eight through the hoop. Ted started off well as he put in six points during the first quarter but he appeared to tire during the final part of the game.

Winter led the Kelowna team as he racked in 14 points. He played a standout game all evening and if his name had been missing from the lineup, the Kelowna team would have been lost. Kelowna key man Cliff Senwa had a very bad night as he shot time after time and put in only eleven points.

Western Canada Senior Amateur Hockey Finals Slated For B.C.

Western Canada playdowns in the Allan Cup series will be played in B.C. this year. This was the important information for western sportsmen that came out of a two-day meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, held in Winnipeg over the weekend.

The CAHA report from Winnipeg said the western finals, a best of seven series, will get underway in this province April 15 and the other six games to be played on the 17, 19, 21, 23, 24 and 26. Details are still lacking on what ice will be used, but the CAHA dispatch said all games will not be played in Vancouver. This gives rise to speculation that one or more of the larger interior arenas may have the opportunity to play host to the western final series.

Date and place of the east meets west Allan Cup finals will not be known until the two contenders have emerged from the playdowns.

In the "A" series of the Western Canada playoffs, Manitoba engages the winners of the Thunder Bay section, at Thunder Bay, March 17. In the "B" series, the winner of the "A" series meets the Saskatchewan contenders. If Manitoba wins the "A" series, play opens in Saskatchewan, March 31, and if Thunder Bay wins the "A" series, play opens in Thunder Bay, March 31.

The CAHA announced a long list of venues and dates for junior and senior playoffs and also ruled that Toronto East York Lyndhursts would represent Canada in the world hockey tournament.

It was disclosed that Kenora, 1953 intermediate champions, would take the Japan tour next summer, not the Trail Smoke Eaters as previously rumored.

SUMMERLAND 6,
CONTRACTORS 4

Walt Holowaty's hat trick failed to turn the trick for third place Contractors Sunday as the league leading Summerlanders outscored them by one goal in the first two periods to take a 6-4 victory without too much effort.

Summerland looked much improved with Rocky Richardson back on the lineup and although he garnered only one assist for the afternoon, his return seemed to spark the blistering attacks unleashed at John Protz's crew. The Dick Steinhilber-George Taylor combination proved dangerous once again and accounted for three of the visitors' goals.

Holowaty, from hustling Harry Tomlin and Mathers, gave the Contractors a one point margin in the opening minutes of the period but Taylor from Steinhilber and Richardson evened it up and late in the period Steinhilber gave Summerland the lead on a scoring play with Taylor and Al Hooker.

Holowaty again opened the scoring in the second period to even the count but three markers by Bill Eyre, from Barney Furuya; Steinhilber, from Taylor and Rosie Campbell; Hooker, unassisted, put Contractors back in the hole. At the 17 minute mark Ray Johnson closed the gap one notch with the help of Phil Johnson and Holowaty (again).

Single markers for each club was all the hectic third period produced as Holowaty completed his tri-trick on a setup by Tomlin and Bill Eyre notched the Summerland Insurance marker unassisted.

Contractors were developing more speed on the attack but they experienced rearguard troubles that didn't give Petrie an even break on the play. Bontheas between the pipes for Summerland mixed up the horse shoes with some classy net minding and had Summerland backing him up with their usual tough brand of checking.

The parade to the puky was limited to three minors for each club and neither club suffered from playing short handed.

SUMMARY

The second game in the Okanagan juvenile playoffs is scheduled for Penticton... arena, this Saturday as the Penticton BCD's look horns with the Vernon contenders.

The first game has been slated for tomorrow night in Vernon. The best of three series was billed to open last Saturday in Penticton but Vernon backed out a matter of hours before game time because of transportation difficulties.

Lakettes Defeat Oliver Saturday; First Victory

Happy faces were the order of the day for coach Marshall and the Pen Hi Lakettes as they defeated the Oliver Green Hornets 28-18 for their first victory of the year here on Saturday.

The Lakettes who have come within two points of victory many times previously but have been held out of the win column by Oliver, Kelowna and Vernon, finally succeeded after months of hard work.

Coach Marshall had a lot of new girls on his team and many of the others have only played for one year, but his efforts finally paid off and he went home a happy man on Saturday.

Things looked blacker than usual for the Lakettes when at the end of the first quarter they were down 6-0. They came back strong in the second quarter and the score stood 8-7 for the south-easters at half time.

The fought even harder during the next half and finally came out on top 28-18.

Audrey Parmley paced the winners with nine points and Gail Gordon played a much improved game with a tally of six points. Gail Wheeler led the losers with six points and Lynn Ewers ran a close second with five.

SUMMARY

Green Hornets - Seidler 2, Evans, Wheeler 6, Klettke 1, Hinde, Redenbach 3, Zarelli 1, Miller, Ewers 5, Total 18.
Lakettes - Gordon 6, Campbell 4, Hines 3, Burch 3, Parmley 9, Nagle 3, Sykes, Puddy, Cox, Burtgart, Total 28.

The proposed 36-hole challenge match between the American PGA senior champion and the seasonal golf will be played in England July 3 and 4. Fred Corcoran, PGA promotion director said.

McDougald and Bill Ramsden got Spokane's third-period goals. Goalee Jerry Fodey got his third shutout of the season Saturday night.

Fodey made 24 saves, half of them in the second period.

After a scoreless first period, Doug Toole flipped in the winning goal unassisted at 5:01 of the second. Bill McNally and Red Tilson both scored late in the third.

The Sunday game was rated the "best game witnessed on Spokane ice this season." Play was clean throughout. Spokane outshot Kelowna 27-25.

On The Sidelines

BY BOB MORRISON

The OVMIL has reversed its decision to oust Jack O'Reilly, coach of the Kelowna juveniles. The surprise move was made Sunday at a joint meeting of Okanagan minor hockey officials and members of the BCAHA.

O'Reilly received a one year suspension from the BCAHA several weeks ago following a blow-up on Penticton ice during an intercity fixture that ended with the Kelowna coach pulling his team from the ice. The meeting was attended by BCAHA minor hockey representative Cal Callaghan and reports of the proceedings were related by him in an interview Monday.

Callaghan said although minor hockey officials in the valley at first opposed the sentence on O'Reilly, a discussion of the whole incident prompted them to give the Kelowna hockey enthusiasts last "one more chance." "This was done with the firm understanding that one more violation of the rules would mean suspension from the OVMIL," Callaghan stated. O'Reilly will be reinstated on a technical point in the suspension ruling.

The decision to take the Kelowna coach back in the league was made "in the overall interest of minor hockey in the valley," the meeting declared. While they did not backtrack on the serious infraction, they were reluctant to take a hard working minor hockey booster away from Kelowna.

Wally Janicki, of Vernon, manager and statistician of the Interior Senior B Basketball League, is crying the blues of late. Wally, hard working, as usual, to promote increased interest in the league game, has been hampered by incomplete reports from a couple of clubs. It was his intention to give a complete rundown on the league to date, but "spotty returns" made this impossible.

In view of the incomplete figures at this time, I will pick out a few of the highlights from his first report. The most encouraging news expressed by Janicki is that more people are watching basketball this year and more guys and gals are playing the game than has been the case for the past couple of years. That may be true up the valley, but the apathetic attitude here appears to be unchanged, especially on the part of the fans.

The league, stretching from Revelstoke in the north to Princeton in the south, has been split through the middle. In the south, the playoffs are shaping up to be a hectic battle as Kelowna, Penticton and Princeton have each won two games and Rutland has won one. Game scores have been close, hard-fought and in the balance right to the end - the finest spectator appeal.

In Janicki's opinion Kelowna is the "dark horse" and he says to watch them closely.

Up in the north - Vernon, Revelstoke, Kamloops and Salmon Arm - they apparently tear up the scoresheets following the game. From what Wally tells us, he has done everything but get down on bended knee in an effort to get game results but not even the winners want to pass them along it seems.

Kamloops remains the powerhouse with four wins in four trips out. Vernon second with a brace of victories. Salmon Arm a singleton and Revelstoke is yet to celebrate a triumph.

Penticton's Bill Raptis is in the top scoring circle but fifth in the list of seven. He has an average of 15 points per game, as compared with the leagues top point getter, Jack McKinnon, Kamloops, who averages 19 points to date.

High praise for Harry Nelson of New Westminster, Canada's outstanding junior athlete of 1953 was received from Mel Patton, former U.S. Olympic great who said Nelson is the best sprinting prospect in four years at Long Beach College in California.

Kelowna Chooses Top Athletes Of 1952 And 1953

KELOWNA - A closely-guarded secret was made public at Saturday's hockey game when an 18-year-old Rutland youth and a 19-year-old Kelowna athlete were named as athlete of the year for 1952 and 1953 respectively.

Named as winners of the new and coveted Augie Ciacone Memorial Award were Bob Campbell of Rutland, for 1952, and Bruce Butcher of Kelowna, for 1953. The filled arena acclaimed the choice of these two popular youths. The award was set up recently to perpetuate the memory of Augie Ciacone, well-known and respected athlete who died January 1, 1952, at the age of 26. Campbell became the first to hold it.

High praise for Harry Nelson of New Westminster, Canada's outstanding junior athlete of 1953 was received from Mel Patton, former U.S. Olympic great who said Nelson is the best sprinting prospect in four years at Long Beach College in California.

In the list of seven. He has an average of 15 points per game, as compared with the leagues top point getter, Jack McKinnon, Kamloops, who averages 19 points to date.

Vernon's Miller Just Six Points Back Of Leader Bill Warwick

Jack Miller, of Vernon Canadians, and Grant Warwick continue to give Bill Warwick a good run for his money and this week it is Miller who is in second spot by virtue of earning five points in three games, just six points behind Bill's mark of 70. Kelowna's Jim Middleton tumbled down the list of ten top scorers this past period from fifth to eighth and V's Jack McIntyre dropped a notch but other than this the cream of the OSAHL sharpshooters remains almost static. Just 12 players are listed this week (15 last period) and the names of Jim Fleming, Ken Booth and Bob Ballance have vanished. Kamloops' net minder, Hal Gordon, has taken over from Vernon's Johnny Soffak as second best in the goalkeeping department. The lads behind the pads have a long way to go to catch Ivan McLelland of the V's.

The Hat Tigers Too Much Hockey For OK Stars

A superior Medicine Hat Tigers team beat Okanagan junior All-Stars here Wednesday night 5-1, but the Albertans failed to overcome the Kelowna-Vernon Stars with the ease they had expected.

The Tigers outskated and outshot the Kelowna-Vernon players 32-14 but they failed to do a repeat of the 2-1 score with which they downed a hapless Trail squad earlier in the week.

Tigers scored twice in the opening period, and failed to register a third shot on goal which referee Bill Neilson judged was kicked into the Stars' net. Smith, unassisted, and Ferenz, on an assist from Clark, drove in the two Tigers goals.

Penner, from Ferenz and Peltto, added the third marker for the visitors in the middle frame, as Tigers kept the Stars bottled up in their own end for most of the period.

Gabor, from Link and Demore, and Clark, unassisted, added the Albertans extra two goals in the final period. But Tony Splay of Kelowna, broke the jinx for Stars to prevent a shutout at the 15-minute mark, on assists from Wolfe and Bidowski.

Kelowna's Johnny Rizzo coped honors for most valuable player of the night, and Stars deserved a great deal of credit for their showing against the smooth-playing visitors.

Six minor penalties were handed out and one player, Tigers Harry Thorleksen, formerly with Vernon, received a broken nose early in the game.

SUMMARY

First period — 1, Medicine Hat, Smith (unassisted) 6:40; 2, Medicine Hat, Ferenz (Clark) 12:44. Penalties — Stevenson, Beale.

Second period — 3, Medicine Hat, Penner (Ferenz, Peltto) 6:58. Penalties — Plante, Ogasawara, Syverson.

Third period — 4, Medicine Hat, Gabor (Link, Demore) 13:10; 5, Medicine Hat, Clark (unassisted) 14:30; 6, All-Stars, Splay (Wolfe, Bidowski) 15:00. Penalties — Syverson, Rizzo.

LINEUPS

Okanagan All-Stars — Goal, Farina, spare, Chatham; defence, Rizzo, Brydon, Wolfe, Bidowski, White; forwards, Schaefer, Folk, Bazzy, Ogasawara, Jost, Genier, Beale, Butcher.

Medicine Hat All-Stars — Goal, Zanier; defence, Peltto, Plante, Smith, Syverson; forwards, Czuy, Thorleksen, Fonteyne, Demore, Ferenz, Penner, Link, Clark, Gabor.

Canadians Coast To Easy 7-3 Win Over Packers

VERNON — Vernon Canadians broke from the barrier into a 4-0 first-period lead and coasted in for an easy 7-3 win over the sluggish Kelowna Packers here Thursday night in a ragged, loosely-played OSAHL encounter.

Canadians pelted 23 shots at goalie Doug Stevenson in the opening period when the Packers appeared unable to untrack from their own zone.

Vernon extended to 5-0 with a singleton in the second and eased up in the final period when Mike Durban killed Soffak's shut-out hopes with a well-executed goal at 2:50. Packers rallied briefly but managed to cut the margin by only one goal in out-scoring the home team 3-2.

Dick Butler scored twice to pace the winners with Tom Stecyk, Don Jakes, Leo Lucchini, Jack Miller and Johnny Harms adding the others. Bill McCulley and Frank Hoskins completed the Packer scoring.

Goalkeeping featured the wide-open game with Soffak displaying his earlier aplomb and getting better defensive support with the return of Bill Geary while Stevenson was left to carry the big load for the Packers. Vernon outshot Kelowna 40-33 in the night.

Referee Bill Neilson handed out seven minors, four of them to Kelowna.

SUMMARY

First period — 1, Vernon, Jakes (Stecyk) 2:51; 2, Vernon, Stecyk (Lucchini) 3:46; 3, Vernon, Lucchini (Geary) 8:55; 4, Vernon, Miller (Davison, Miller) 14:30. Penalties — Geary, Hanson, Culley, Hoskins.

Second period — 5, Vernon, Butler (Miller) 10:59. Penalty — Butler.

Third period — 6, Kelowna, Durban (Kilburn) 2:50; 7, Kelowna, McCulley (Kilburn) 7:07; 8, Vernon, Miller (Davison, Miller) 8:07; 9, Kelowna, Hoskins (Middleton, Carlson) 9:10; 10, Vernon, Harms (Stecyk) 10:15. Penalties — McLelland, Hoskins.

Undefeated John Kelly, Belfast bantamweight who won the European championship without leaving home, was voted the best young British boxer of 1953 by the Boxing Writers Club. Kelly, who is 21, has fought 21 times as a professional. Every fight was in Belfast and he won them all.

Second Shutout

Ivan McLelland and Kev Conway made V's fifth goal, in the opening minutes of the third period, look as easy as falling off a log. Ivan stopped an easy shot then whisked the rubber to Conway at his own blueline. Before players on either team knew what was going on, Conway was at the Elks blue and had the famous bullet shot away that zipped into the Kamloops twine without a move from Gordon.

Jack McDonald rounded off the even half dozen markers for the home club at 14 minutes of the final on a goal crease pileup that brought Jim Fairburn and Conway in on the play.

THREE PENALTIES
The absence of penalties caused as much comment as anything among the fans between periods with just one minor call on the Elks in the first, an empty sin bin in the second and a minor to each club in the final. But the three penalties by no means were an indication of sluggish play.

Kamloops shaped up to be another tough opponent in that first frame with plenty of high speed puck chasing on both sides of the red line. The V's, going after their seventh win in ten starts against the Elks, came back in the second with the blistering attacks that have carried them into a mile long lead in the OSAHL and reassured home town fans that any little recession in the power of the Warwickmen had vanished.

McLelland's shutout, well guarded by a rigid defence, was nonetheless in the balance on more than one occasion but never more so than in the final seconds of the first period. The V's defence was caught deep in Kamloops' territory when the rubber shot out of the end zone, well up into centre ice.

NARROW ESCAPE
Gunnar Carlson broke fast and was in the clear. McLelland left the goal and raced Carlson for the puck as the fans sucked in their breath. At the last moment he saw he could not beat the speeding Elk player and turned his back on him, making a retreat to the net. Carlson had him cold but McLelland turned around just in time to brace himself for the shot. Carlson deked the V's custodian, shifted to the side for a clean path to the net frame and a hasty shot hit the side of the net and the rearguard moved in to make sure he didn't get another chance.

B.C. Will Not Go Into Junior "A"

A Kelowna meeting of BCAHA members definitely ruled that B.C. will not enter a Junior "A" class team in interprovincial competition this year. The decision came when it grew increasingly apparent that there was not the material here to build a contending club.

However, $750 has been earmarked for Junior "B" play-downs and a composite team will be formed in the Okanagan to compete with a club from the coast and the Kootenays. It is not likely any Pentleton players will be on the Okanagan team. Headquarters for the Junior "B" is in Vernon.

SUMMARY
First period — No goals. Penalties — Taggart.

Second period — 1, Pentleton, D. Warwick (Kilburn, Montgomery), 4:28; 2, Pentleton, Berry (Kilburn, D. Warwick), 11:58; 3, Pentleton, Berry (Dick Warwick), 18:43; 4, Pentleton, Mascotto (Kilburn), 19:17. Penalties — Nil.

Third period — 5, Pentleton, Conway (McLelland), 5:20; 6, Pentleton, McDonald (Fairburn, Conway), 14:00. Penalties — Creighton, McAvoy.

Winner of golf's Vardon trophy for the year's best stroke average is Lloyd Mangrum who posted 70.22 for the season. He shares 1953 golf honors with Lew Worsham, top money winner with $34,002 earned.

A profit of $1200 on 1953-54 operation of Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League was reported by the sponsoring Edmonton Exhibition Association at the annual shareholders' meeting.

Funeral Services Held Tuesday For James Kean At Summerland

SUMMERLAND — The death of James Kean, well known and respected resident of Summerland, occurred in Penticton General Hospital on Saturday, January 9, at the age of 55, and following a long illness.

The late Mr. Kean had lived here for 47 years, coming from Glasgow with his parents. He became an orchardist and engaged in this work throughout his life. He served overseas in World War I, and was a member of the Canadian Legion and the IOOF.

For 14 years he played in the Penticton band and was a member of the Penticton orchestra for some time. He was also in the former and the present Summerland bands.

His wife, the former Helen Cockburn Kean, also came from Scotland and predeceased him in 1952.

He is survived by four children, Helen, a nurse-in-training at Royal Columbian Hospital, New Westminster; David in the RCAF, who came from Portage La Prairie to attend his father's funeral, and Alex and Dennis, orchardists here.

Funeral services were conducted from St. Andrew's United Church yesterday at 2 p.m. with Rev. C. O. Richmond officiating with graveside service by the IOOF. Pallbearers were Dr. James Marshall, J. L. Brown, E. Kercher, C. Ongaro, B. Newton and A. J. McKenzie. Interment was in the family plot, Peach Orchard cemetery.

BEAVER PARTING
Young beavers remain with their parents until almost a year after leaving the parental lodge, never to return, about a week before their mother gives birth to another litter of "kittens".

Osoyoos Notes

OSOYOOS — At a meeting of the board of commissioners held last week C. E. Emery was the unanimous choice of his fellow officials as chairman of the board.

W. M. Coulson, who has spent the holidays at home with his family here, has returned to Alberta in connection with business concerning the Swamp Buggy Manufacturing. At recent tests at Calgary, Fort Assiniboine and Cold Lake, the swamp buggy proved an outstanding success.

The Canadian Legion, Branch 173, held a well attended turkey supper in the Canadian Legion Hall here last week. Following a very delicious supper, catered to by the Junior Circle, installed the following officers were installed: R. Baillie, president; first vice-president, Walter Abel; second vice-president, T. Pringle; secretary, G. Hannington; treasurer, R. Lang; sergeant-at-arms, H. Smith; padre, Father J. Morrell; executive, J. Shaw, W. McCon.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Cumine have left for a holiday in California.

Miss Pringle, of Victoria, is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schanning.

Mr. and Mrs. Chimpols and small son of New Westminster are visiting with Mrs. Chimpols parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kalten.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Graham, of Vancouver, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. F. James.

"WHITHER BOUND"

Seeing that the subject of man's "Two Destinies" has been recently brought before the residents of Penticton, we desire through this column to present several Scriptures that we feel are being withheld in some places today.

Which will it be? To shame and everlasting contempt or unto life eternal? This very important climax as regards your eternal welfare can be known here and now. God's desire for men and women is that all might be saved and have eternal life. This is made possible by receiving His Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, as your personal Saviour while you still have the opportunity to do so.

We have said you may know just what your portion will be for all eternity. To bear this out we submit for your study two very definite statements which contain the word "whoever". "Whoever" means you, or I, or anyone else. Therefore all are included, either in one verse or the other. The first is found in John, chapter 3, verse 16, "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." From this verse we gather that all who believe shall not perish but have everlasting life.

The second verse we have in mind is in Revelation 20:15, "And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire." This verse is unmistakably clear that those who believe will be banished from God's presence forever.

It might be well to set down the preceding verses 11 to 14 of this 20th chapter for the benefit of those unfamiliar with this portion of scripture. "And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them. And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life; and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works. And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them; and they were judged every man according to their works. And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death."

The object of writing this article is to point out these two portions that God has placed in His Word for our guidance and suggest that any who may be concerned at this time might search the scriptures for themselves and see if these things be so. A great many passages are also found to corroborate this all important matter. For example, John 3:36, "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him."

In conclusion, we trust that you will choose rightly by accepting John 3:16. Remember that although God is a God of love and not willing that any should perish, He is also a God of inflexible justice and can by no means clear the guilty.

Yours truly,

GEO. S. GRANT.

Facts About Cancer

THELMA DAWSON REPORTS

How many people, I wonder, know what the Canadian Cancer Society does?

It sounds a little dull — such a long name and so impersonal — but as it is frequently found in newspapers, over the radio, and as it's connected with so many aspects of cancer — perhaps some of you are a little confused about this long and officious-sounding name.

Here is what it does:

It supports research projects. Both in British Columbia and across Canada.

The B.C. division annually hands over a considerable sum of its money to the centre of cancer research in Canada, Canadian Cancer Institute, and this body puts B.C.'s (and other provinces') money into well-planned and thoroughly investigated research projects. The B.C. division also supports local projects in B.C.

And it contributes to welfare. It gives needy cancer patients (i.e. patients who are not supported by the government but, on the other hand, don't have enough money to meet the extra costs of cancer) money for VON services in the home, drugs, transportation to and from the treatment centre, boarding and nursing home care and housekeepers to watch over the family while the mother is away or in bed.

And it tries to educate the people of B.C. and of Canada. Through films, pamphlets (both may be had by writing Canadian Cancer Society, 686 W. 10th, Vancouver) high school contests, bus advertising cards, we hope to teach people, young and old, the cancer signals and teach them too that cancer is curable if caught in time.

That, at least, if you've been wondering, might help you see the whys and hows of the Canadian Cancer Society.

About cancer research projects in B.C.:

One is now underway at the B.C. Cancer Institute in Vancouver. It's all a matter of physics, and its purpose is to obtain detailed knowledge on the use of the Cobalt 60 Beam Therapy Unit (or "cobalt bomb").

Dr. A. M. Evans, director, and Dr. H. F. Ballo, physicist, of the Institute, have been given $2,500 by National Cancer Institute "to complete physical measurements of the unit" and "techniques for treatment of specific sites".

Pretty formidable phrases. But the method of these advanced physics is interesting.

To get their "physical measurements" the doctors work on a 2'x3' plexiglass tank filled with water. The principle is that water, for cobalt beam purposes, is equivalent to the human body. The point is: exactly what strength does the beam have at what points within the human body.

Never realized, until the other day, how far we've progressed in seven years.

We were talking to an American and eventually hit on the subject of cancer. He pointed out — something I had forgotten — that until 1947 no major American radio network would allow the word "cancer" to go over the air.

Think of it! Today you hear the word all the time. You read it in your newspapers, your magazines. It means people are becoming — and being allowed to become — intelligent about this disease.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q: Can cancer grow outside the body of the animal in which it originates?

A: Yes. It is possible to grow cancer tissue in the laboratory. It is also possible to transplant such tissue to another animal of the same family strain.

Q: Does cancer occur more frequently among married or unmarried women?

A: No general statement is possible. A single woman may be more liable to have cancer of the breast than a married woman who nurses her children. However, cancer of the cervix (outlet of the womb) is found more frequently in married women who have borne children.

Report Shows Drop In Building During '53 At Summerland

SUMMERLAND — Year-end building report as reported by building inspector, Roy F. Angus, showed that 91 permits were issued in 1953 in the amount of $161,070, as compared with 39 in 1952 which, however, were up some $50,000, since they were in the amount of $197,005.

Since 1947 there has been a decrease in permits issued, and figures are as follows: 1947, 342 valued at $280,800; 1948, 140 amounting to $298,785; 1949, 159, $232,065; 1950, 100, $510,405; 1951, 86, $146,705.

N. O. Solly Takes Office As New President Of Summerland Kiwanis

SUMMERLAND — Kiwanians ended and began a year on Tuesday evening when retiring president, Edward Smith, summarized the past 12 months' work and the 1954 head, N. O. Solly, was installed by Lieutenant-governor Bob Johnston of Kelowna.

Mr. Smith listed among the things done in 1953, sponsoring of the Cancer Fund Drive, which raised $1473, the largest amount ever to have been given here for that purpose; international kids' day when 300 children were treated to a movie and donations of 400 cans of fruit and vegetables were received for distribution in local welfare; official sponsoring of Summerland Girl Guides; a successful street carnival and a highly remunerative melodrama which made money to further Kiwanis projects.

The retiring president commented on two innovations. One was sending two boys to Mission to compete in the soap box derby as representatives of Summerland and the Okanagan there, and who came back with the hard luck prize. The second, which it is hoped will grow to larger proportions was the establishment of a students' loan fund for graduates of Summerland high school who are seeking further education. This loan is non-interest bearing and repayable by the student when later employed.

Others in the truck were Glen Heavieside, Helen Huva, and Louise Elliott.

All were taken to Summerland General Hospital, where Marilyn was found to have a broken collar bone and broken ribs; Glen a leg cut requiring stitches; and Helen a broken tooth, Louise was uninjured.

Robert Alstead, former member, came from New Westminster to sing at the dinner and was accompanied by Mrs. C. G. Woodbridge.

J. Y. Towgood, a former lieutenant-governor, introduced lieutenant-governor Johnston who installed the officers as follows: president, N. O. Solly; vice-president, Frank MacDonald; treasurer, W. F. M. Guernsey; secretary, J. A. M. Meulenber; directors, J. Y. Towgood, H. L. Sinclair, Doug Campbell, John Betuzzi, W. B. Laidlaw, Ken Heales and Gerry Hallquist.

The delicious dinner was prepared and served by members of Summerland Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary.

Summerland Girls In Car Accident

SUMMERLAND — Four Summerland high school girls were in a motor accident on Sunday afternoon about 4:15 p.m. when a Ford light delivery driven by Marilyn Wade went out of control, struck a telephone guy wire and overturned.

The girls were returning from the hockey match at Penticton when the mishap occurred about half a mile north of the Trout Creek Service Station on highway 97.

Others in the truck were Glen Heavieside, Helen Huva, and Louise Elliott.

All were taken to Summerland General Hospital, where Marilyn was found to have a broken collar bone and broken ribs; Glen a leg cut requiring stitches; and Helen a broken tooth, Louise was uninjured.

New Light On Prayer

Most people would pray more if they felt they knew how, — and knew how prayer could really be effective. Many today feel that their own lives, and the world at large, sorely need help that human effort has not brought.

They see that somehow the answer to life's perplexing problems must be sought where power and intelligence have their limitless, beneficent source — the realm of God.

Today a remarkable book, the Christian Science textbook

SCIENCE and HEALTH

WITH KEY TO THE SCRIPTURES

by Mary Baker Eddy

is reverently revealing a wholly new understanding of prayer, and meeting humanity's need.

During 1954 a great many men are going to start on the path towards financial security for themselves in their later years and for their dependents in the meantime. Will you be one of them?

If so, you will want to consider The Imperial Life's new Security at 65 plan as a guaranteed method of finishing what you set out to do. Four units of the plan, for instance, will provide, if you live to age 65,

$100.00 a month income for life, or $16,230.00 as a single cash payment.

If you die before age 65 your dependents receive $20,000.00 in cash. Other choices of settlement if you want to stop the plan before age 65 or if your need for protection for dependents continues beyond age 65 make the plan very adaptable in fitting it to possible changes in your circumstances. The Company also issues a Security at 60 plan with death benefit provisions before age 60 and with similar income or cash options, but to be taken at age 60.

If you would like further information on either of these plans, see your Imperial Life man today — or fill in the attached enquiry form and mail it to the Company's Head Office. No cost or obligation to you, of course.

Naramata Locals

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Noyes have taken up residence in the Naramata village after moving on Monday from their orchard home at "The Highlands" where they have lived for more than thirty years. The orchard, located on the south benches, was recently purchased by G. G. Moncrieff, of Winnipeg, who arrived in Naramata last week to take possession of the acreage. Mr. Moncrieff plans to go back to Winnipeg and return shortly to the valley with Mrs. Moncrieff and children to reside here.

The annual meeting of the Naramata Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p.m. in the work room at the community hall. The election of a slate of officers for the ensuing year and the reading of annual reports are scheduled for the afternoon's agenda. Mrs. L. de Stange, of Vancouver, provincial director of home nursing for the Red Cross, will be the guest speaker for the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mitchell were in Summerland last evening to attend the banquet and installation of the 1954 slate of officers of the Summerland-Kelowna Club.

Current lecturers at the Christian Leadership Training School are Dr. K. D. Kohler, of Seattle, and Miss Jean Spiller, of Vancouver. Dr. Kohler, arrived in Naramata on Monday to give a short course of lectures on "Youth Relations" and Miss Spiller, associate secretary of the Christian education committee of the B.C. conference of the United Church, will give courses on Christian education work at the school for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. St. Marie returned to their home at Golden on Wednesday after spending the seasonal holidays in Naramata with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. G. Willan.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Green have returned home after visiting in Vancouver during the holiday season.

The Naramata Red Cross evening work group has resumed activities following a seasonal recess. Approximately 1,000 surgical dressings for the blood transfusion service were made by the ten workers attending the first weekly session of the new year. Anyone interested in assisting with this work is invited to join the group in the workroom at the community hall on Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Cliff Nettleton and Mrs. W. A. Ritchie are co-conveners of the surgical dressing group. Mrs. Jack Buckley was tea hostess on Wednesday evening.

The Naramata United Church is holding its annual meeting on January 28 at 8 p.m. in the church proper. Reports from the various groups within the church will be submitted during the meeting and tea will be served following adjournment by the Women's Auxiliary to the church.

A social evening is planned for Saturday, January 23, in the Christian Leadership Training School. All United Church members and friends are invited to participate in the forthcoming event planned to enable the L.T.S. students and staff to become better acquainted with the residents of the community. Refreshments will be served by the Women's Auxiliary and the Women's Federation of the church and a program will be presented by the students of the school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ward have arrived home from a vacation visit in Beglow.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. G. Willan were visitors in Princeton for the New Year holiday.

Bill Tennant was in Kelowna on Friday with the Penticton High School basketball team.

Naramata residents donated 41 pints of blood when the Canadian Red Cross Society's mobile blood clinic made its periodic visit to Penticton in November.

Rev. Clyde Woollard, vice-principal at the Leadership Training School, and Mrs. Woollard have taken up residence in the vice-principal's new home just completed south of the main school building. Mr. and Mrs. Woollard have been occupying the former Unity Club home on the lake shore since coming to join the staff at the L.T.S. last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Salting have arrived home after spending the Christmas and New Year holidays in Victoria with their daughter and son-in-law.

National Film Board pictures shown on Tuesday evening at the L.T.S. by Rev. A. C. Pound were those on the Denmark cooperative plan, Canadian troops in Germany, a story on the making of pottery and the experience of several "New Canadians" as they arrived in the land of their adoption.

After spending the past several weeks as a patient in the Penticton Hospital, Mrs. Charles Rohr returned to her home in Naramata on Saturday.

Almost all of Australia's iron is produced in the state of New South Wales.

Debate Welcome
Wagon Service

Mayor Oscar Matson expects to continue the custom of his predecessors in signing an official welcome letter, used by the Welcome Wagon when calling on new residents, but he promised council that, if he does, he will see to it that all merchants participate, or have the opportunity to participate in the Welcome Wagon welcome, which by means of business cards and distribution of sample commodities enables city merchants to introduce themselves to potential customers.

The point raised was whether the prestige of the mayor's office should be exercised in a matter of this kind if it was not wide open to all merchants to participate. Alderman Wilson Hunt and Alderman H. M. Geddes, both businessmen, stated they had never been asked to participate.

Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh thought it was a matter best handled by the Board of Trade, or some similar organization. Eventually it was left in the hands of the mayor and he concluded the discussion by saying "there will be no discrimination".

Ross Ennett, a 16-year-old high school student at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., established a new world's record of 54.075 miles an hour for Class B outboard hydroplanes in the Orange Bowl regatta. The old record was 53.321 miles an hour.

In 1952 the average value per acre of Canadian farm land was $48, double the 1935-39 value.

IRRIGATION PROBLEM

K. L. Wiltse attended the irrigation committee meeting of City Council last week, requesting permission to pump water from the old Okanagan River channel as his present service under license No. 13565 for 10.15 acre feet per annum to irrigate 4.06 acres now running dry. He advised the committee that the provincial government water rights branch had advised him that he must obtain permission from the Penticton council before they would grant him permission to relocate his supply source. Mr. Wiltse advised the committee that he wished to abandon his present license and re-apply for additional water for approximately eight acres. The engineer advised the committee that the city could make available sufficient irrigation water without too much difficulty and as a result the engineer was instructed to prepare a detailed estimate of supplying irrigation water to the highest point of land owned by Mr. Wiltse. This was approved by council on Monday.

By-Election At Summerland Won
By J. R. Butler

SUMMERLAND—J. R. (Bob) Butler was elected as councillor in the by-election Saturday, held to fill the vacancy created when Reeve E. E. Atkinson resigned in December to run for the office of chief magistrate. Mr. Butler received 276 votes.

The by-election brought out 763 voters, which was considered high, and the results were remarkably close with Gerry Hallquist second in the contest polling 252, and W. G. Gillard third with 233.

At West Summerland 633 cast their ballots and at Lower Town 132. There were two spoiled ballots.

Mr. Butler is the older son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Butler, both public-spirited residents. He was born here, educated at Summerland schools, and is an orchardist.

He has been on the local hospital board and is active in BCFGA work.

His wife is the matron of Summerland General Hospital and they have a son and a daughter.

Our Town
By Jack ScottSALE-HAPPY

It is one of the harmless varieties of the male to profess that he can never understand the mind of woman.

Many men, having been outwitted or out-manoeuvred by a wife or daughter shrug and say, "I will never understand women," hoping in that way to salvage their illusion of superiority.

As a man who lives without illusions, entirely surrounded by the female species—five humans, two utterly feminine cats and a Labrador—I like to believe that I've accumulated at least a working knowledge of how they operate, probably the most bewitching study available to mankind.

I do, that is, until there's an auction sale. Then my reason quakes before the eternal mystery of what goes on in the female dome.

Brown Eyes has been attending these sales religiously since we moved out to the good green acres and I have long since reconciled myself to her arriving home with incredible bric-a-brac dredged from somebody's basement and ending up inevitably in our basement.

Now, normally, my wife is a cautious and well-disciplined shopper. It is thus beyond my dull, masculine comprehension to observe her eyes shining and with an air of triumph, unloading from the car a 100-pound candleabra, a three-legged bar stool, a four-legged table, an esoteric and a hundred feet of punctured garden hose.

It wasn't until this week, in fact, when I attended my first auction to bid on a post-hole digger, that I had an inkling of the curious change of personality, the mental illness known as Auctionitis, which causes women to go just a tiny bit mad in the role of the highest bidder.

Here in the grounds of a summer home, littered with the kind of weird odds and ends that accumulate as surely as dust, a half hundred ladies stood expectantly about the auctioneer.

"We have here an assortment of old cutlery, each piece different," announced the auctioneer holding up what appeared to be several tin spoons and forks.

Summerland Singers, Players Club Prepare For Spring Production

SUMMERLAND—Summerland Singers and Players Club who for some time have been giving a spring production of a Gilbert and Sullivan opera have chosen to do the Yeomen of the Guard this year. Practices were commenced on Tuesday and will be held regularly.

W. A. (Bud) Stuart is the musical director and Stan Cladwell will produce the play. Cooperation between the two sections of the club give a finished production with Players helping with costumes and make-up.

The play is usually shown in Penticton and Kelowna to appreciative audiences who enjoy the amusing libretto and rollicking tunes.

"Two-bits," said a woman in a voice as business-like as a grain exchange broker buying an elevator of No. 1 Hard.

"Thirty," came another and, with sinking heart, I recognized that most familiar voice.

The affair of the rocking chair perhaps best illustrates the temporary lunacy of Auctionitis. I had by this time skulked to the outskirts of the crowd, hoping that nobody would recognize me as kin to "the little lady in blue" who had bought—so help me—a novelty ball and chain, but when I heard the bidding on the rocking chair I moved closer for a look.

The rocking chair was of that unhappy age when it just misses being a valuable antique and becomes, instead, a worthless relic.

As the bidding mounted relentlessly it suddenly dawned on me that the ladies had completely lost sight of the object itself, and were in competition on a more mystic level.

With each 25-cent hop in price the sweet faces of the ladies became more frigid. It wouldn't have mattered, I was convinced, if it had been the Hope Diamond or a pair of ashes—the idea was to top the opponent.

At $4.25—which I estimated to be about four times the rocking chair's value—my wife and another equally determined woman were left battling it out alone in the centre of the ring. I remember thinking wistfully to myself, "If this other woman doesn't desert I may find myself writing a worthless cheque for $30,000."

As it was, I paid the cashier $6.25. As I bore the poor old chair through the crowd my wife led the way proudly in a victory march and, with each man, I passed there was that quick exchange of glances the "I'll Never Understand Women Look" which makes all men kin.

P. F. Erout Superannuated
After Long Service In Valley Cannery Business

A veteran of the cannery business since 1912, P. F. Erout, manager of Canadian Canneries in Penticton, since 1930, has been superannuated.

Mr. Erout's career has covered most valley centres, including Penticton, Oliver, Keremeos, Kelowna and Vernon.

Except for service overseas during the first world war, Mr. Erout has resided in the Okanagan since 1905. "Back in the days when, if you strayed off Main Street, you were wise to plant the trees in order to find your way back."

Mr. Erout helped build the Western Cannery in Penticton in 1912. Prior to going overseas, in 1914, he was foreman of Canadian Canneries at Vernon.

After the war he was at Keremeos and in subsequent years was supervisor of plants at Kelowna, Penticton and Oliver, until he settled permanently in Penticton in 1930.

"Looking back over the years, Mr. Erout recalls "many pleasant associations and many worrisome conditions."

"I have worked with hundreds of excellent employees who gave us full co-operation at all times."

Mr. and Mrs. Erout will continue to reside in Penticton. He is president of Branch 40, Canadian Legion, and a member of the school board.

His successor at the Penticton plant of Canadian Canneries is R. S. Tucker, of the company's Oliver operation.

General Meeting Of Art Club Thursday

The Penticton Art Club will be holding a general meeting on Thursday, at 8:15 p.m. in the Alexander Room of the Canadian Legion. Several films will be shown and refreshments will be served. Anyone interested in sketching or painting is invited to attend this meeting of the Penticton Art Club.

What many
really made of...

When you look at any building in which life insurance dollars have been invested, you may see only bricks and mortar. But these buildings are really fashioned out of many different people's dreams.

What dreams? Perhaps a father's hope of sending his boy to college some day. Or a school teacher's goal of a trip to Europe. Or someone's plan to pay off a mortgage, buy a farm, or retire at 65.

Out of such dreams many different kinds of buildings are constructed all over the nation. Schools, stores, office buildings, homes, hotels, power plants, factories—these are some of the useful structures created with the aid of money which life insurance companies invest for their policyholders.

So, if you are a life insurance policyholder, remember... while you're working to make your dreams come true... while you're providing for your family's security... you're also helping to make Canada a better land to live in!

The Women's World

Treasure at the End of the Rainbow

THE new Rainbow Cakes are your answer when you're wondering what to serve for dessert—for that "special" dinner—when the candles are lit for the children's birthday party—or when you simply want to see the family's eyes and appetites brighten up.

Just picture a frosty pink, feather-light cake on your prettiest serving plate. Or a delicate pale-green cake... or orange... or lemon colored. That's the beauty of this one simple recipe. For the secret of this rainbow variety of radiant color is—jelly powder!—there's no guess-work in coloring and flavoring either cake-batter or icing.

RAINBOW CAKE

2½ cups sifted cake flour
3 tps. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. baking soda
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 package jelly powder (any flavor)
3 eggs, unbeaten
Milk

*With butter, margarine, lard use 1 cup; with shortening use 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, soda; sift 3 times. Cream shortening, add sugar and jelly powder gradually; cream until fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time; beat well after each. Add flour alternately with milk in small amounts; beat smooth after each addition. Bake in two round 9" layer pans, lined on bottoms with paper. Use moderate oven (375°F.); about 25 minutes.

FROSTING

½ pkg. (3½ tps.) jelly powder (any flavor)
½ cup VERY HOT water

1½ cups sugar

Dash of salt

2 egg whites, unbeaten

Dissolve jelly powder in very hot water in top of double boiler. Add sugar, salt, and egg whites; beat about 1 minute, or until thoroughly mixed. Then place over rapidly boiling water and beat constantly with rotary egg beater (or at high speed of electric beater) 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand up in peaks. Transfer frosting at once to a bowl and beat about 1 minute, or until thick enough to spread.

SPECIAL OCCASION LOAF

¾ cup milk
1 cake compressed yeast
¾ to 3¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup cooked prunes
¼ cup butter
1½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg
1½ cup coarsely chopped pecans or walnuts
½ cup candied cherries

Scald milk and cool to lukewarm; add yeast and stir until yeast is dissolved. Add 1 cup flour and stir until well blended. Cover, and let stand in warm place until light (about 45 minutes).

Cut prunes from pits into medium-sized pieces. Cream sugar, butter, salt and spice. Add beat, egg, and mix well. Blend in yeast mixture and about half of remaining flour. Add prunes, nuts, finely cut cherries and remainder of flour.

Mix thoroughly. Lift to floured board, and knead until smooth. Cover, and let stand in warm place until double in bulk (about 2 hours). Form into loaf and place in well-greased pan.

Cover and let stand in warm place until double in size (about 1½ hours). Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 50 to 55 minutes. Remove from oven and brush top with butter.

CHOCOLATE PEANUT BUTTER

2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate
2/3 cup sweetened condensed milk
¼ cup corn syrup

1 cup shelled roasted peanuts Melt chocolate over low heat in heavy saucepan. Add condensed milk and corn syrup. Stir until mixture will crackle (290-300°F.) when tested in cold water. Stir in peanuts. Turn into thin sheet with palm of hand. When cold break into pieces.

Hot-Water GINGERBREAD

Grease an 8-inch square cake pan and line bottom with greased paper. Preheat oven to 325° (rather slow). Mix and sift three times 2 c. once-sifted pastry flour (or 1½ c. once-sifted all-purpose flour), 2 tps. Magic Baking Powder, ¼ tsp. baking soda, ¼ tsp. salt, 1 tsp. ground ginger, ½ tsp. ground cinnamon and ½ tsp. grated nutmeg. Cream 5 tps. shortening; gradually blend in ¾ c. lightly-packed brown sugar and ¼ c. molasses; add 2 well-beaten eggs part at a time, beating well after each addition; stir in ½ tsp. grated lemon rind and ½ tsp. vanilla. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture about a third at a time, combining lightly after each addition; gently stir in ¾ c. boiling water. Turn into prepared pan. Bake in preheated oven about 45 minutes.

GRASSES BEST COVER CROPS FOR APPLE AND PEAR ORCHARDS

For some years after orchards were first planted in British Columbia, clean cultivation was practised. This resulted in a serious reduction in the organic matter content of the soil. Also, it gave poor protection to the soil, so that serious erosion resulted. Accordingly, orchardists adopted the practice of growing cover crops, and this practice is still in general use.

The question frequently arises as to what is the best kind of cover crop for apples and pears. Tests have been made of a large number of possible cover crops at the Summerland Experimental Station and at the Substation at East Kelowna, says Dr. J. C. Wilcox. Many problems have been encountered, and not all of them have as yet been solved.

Grass sods have, on the whole, proved better for apples and pears than have legumes. One reason for this is that they induce earlier maturity in the fall, thus giving better color and quality in the fruit and less danger of injury from fall freezes. Among the more suitable grass sods are Kentucky blue grass, red top grass, and creeping red fescue.

Legumes are recommended in certain areas. With young orchards, hairy vetch and sweet clover supply plentiful amounts of organic matter. Where the soil is heavy and tight, alfalfa is recommended for opening it up. Under sprinkler irrigation, a mixture of a grass sod and ladino or white Dutch clover has proved satisfactory.

Grass sod increases the nitrogen requirements of the soil, and it is not always easy to tell how much nitrogen to apply and when to apply it. Present indications from the experimental work are that the main fertilizer application should be made in the late fall. On sandy soils irrigated by the sprinkler method, however, a supplementary application in May sometimes appears advisable.

Kelowna Civic Workers Given Five-Day Week

KELOWNA — Kelowna city employees will start on a five-day 40-hour work week immediately. This was disclosed at the inaugural meeting of the 1954 City Council, when Alderman Dick Parkinson said a satisfactory agreement had been reached with the city hall employees, electrical workers and the Kelowna civic employees' union.

Office hours, including the city hall will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday to Friday. Mr. Parkinson explained provision will be made to look after essential or emergency services and that garbage will still be collected on Saturdays.

The agreement is for two years, and there will be no reduction in take-home pay. Mr. Parkinson said the amount of work done on Saturdays by outside employees is "not too efficient", as it takes time to transport machinery and equipment to and from a project during the four-hour work day.

"We must realize the five-day work week is coming. Last year one union requested it, but council turned it down. The Okanagan Telephone Co. is on a five-day week, and the banks have now adopted the plan."

No penalty will be levied for non-payment of utility bills if the 18th of the month (deadline) falls on a Saturday.

Child's Mental Health Subject Of Summerland P-TA Discussion

SUMMERLAND — J. Billyeald, mental health co-ordinator for school district No. 23, Kelowna, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of Summerland P-TA on Thursday in the high school library.

Mr. Billyeald is one of the approximately 35 teachers in Canada trained in this work, and one who took a course at Toronto University arranged through the department of health and welfare for the Canadian Mental Health Association. Seven of these specially trained people came to British Columbia; some are engaged in the work; others have been absorbed in regular teaching or have gone to other provinces. Only two are in the interior; one at Kamloops, and the speaker at Kelowna.

Last year there was no course of the sort given at U of T and this year it is being given to exchange teachers from Thailand.

The job in part is to visit the schools within a given district, and to follow up referrals from teachers and parents of children who follow any abnormal behaviour pattern attributable to an emotional factor. Some children have great ability and little achievement. These would come under the attention of the mental health co-ordinator. An exaggerated "bully" would also be under this specialized teacher's attention, etc.

The speaker outlined his talk under the title of "Roles of parents and teachers in the light of mental health in children", beginning with a definition of mental health. This he expanded from "being comfortable about one's self; controlled, with realistic goals, able to decide for oneself," into "a responsibility for others."

Under the heading, "what do children need from parents to grow into mentally healthy people?" he mentioned most particularly continuity and consistency in the home life.

"Understanding as it relates to the growth process," was seen by Mr. Billyeald as "ages and stages" with varying rates of development which should be recognized and tolerated, though not with unlimited permission to allow whatever the child may desire.

One of the more important roles of the parents was suggested in the question put by the speaker, "What do we mean by love?" as related to the subject. It was defined as an attitude; accepting and enjoying each stage of development. Mr. Billyeald said that gifts do not take the place of love, and that parents should not mind failure in children too much. He advised an opportunity be given for reasonable achievement with praise and encouragement offered as effective incentives, and all a two-way process between parent and child, each respecting the other as an individual.

Speaking of teenagers, the co-ordinator thought that they were one of the most conservative groups staying within the boundaries set by themselves and their companions, and he urged that parents should agree on the conduct of this group so that a common denominator would be reached, saying that good discipline made for independence—the teenagers' goal.

"Parents should have satisfying outlets other than spending their entire time bringing up children," he said, concluding with the thought that closer co-operation between home and school would not only teach the accepted three R's of the school but the three R's of citizenship which were said to be, right, respect, and responsibility. "The teacher sees the individual, but the P-TA brings the unified view," W. C. Wilkin introduced the speaker and Mrs. Flora Berg.

Summerland Man On Mission In Malaya

SUMMERLAND — Brian Atkinson, FRGS, son of Mrs. G. Atkinson, Sand Hill Road, is on an interesting mission for the British government in Malaya.

He is among those who are responsible for building up the new villages in Malaya. A December issue of The Listener, publication of the British Broadcasting Society, in an article The Building of a Malayan Nation tells of the measures which are being taken to combat communism in that country and says in part, "The British responsibility is to bring Malaya forward to a point where she can be responsible for herself — and the first step for that is to help her to become really united within herself."

Mr. Atkinson, who is a writer, and who last year had a full length novel with a jungle setting, published in the Toronto Star Weekly, was made a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society for work done and articles written previously when he was in Burma.

Many Services Held During Prayer Week

SUMMERLAND — The Week of Prayer concluded with Friday night's service in the Baptist church at which Rev. C. O. Richmond of St. Andrew's United was the speaker. The service was well attended.

During the week other services and speakers were: Monday, Rev. A. F. Irving of the Trout Creek church speaking in Lakeside United; Tuesday, Rev. J. H. James of the Free Methodist church addressing the gathering in the Pentecostal church; Wednesday evening, Rev. C. D. Postal minister of the Pentecostal congregation who spoke in Trout Creek church; at Thursday's service in the Free Methodist church, Rev. K. Knight, Baptist minister was the speaker.

Collection from the various services will go to the Lord's Day Alliance.

Thet as a military power in the 7th to 9th centuries held sway far into China and India.

Golden Gate Span Is The Longest Suspension Bridge

Inevitably with talk of a bridge across Okanagan Lake there will now be discussion about the length of this and that bridge. For the record, we list the span lengths of several of the largest suspension bridges in the world. The proposed Okanagan Lake bridge is of this type.

The big one, of course, is the Golden Gate at San Francisco, which is 4,200 feet.

The Lion's Gate span at Vancouver is 1,550 feet. Tacoma bridge is 2,800. Other big ones include: George Washington over the Hudson River at New York City, 3,500; Trans Bay at San Francisco, 2,310; Bronx at New York City, 2,300; Wilmington, Del., 2,000; Ambassador at Windsor, Ont., 1,850; Delaware River at Philadelphia, 1,750; Bear Mountain over Hudson River, 1,632; Chesapeake Bay, 1,600; Brooklyn, 1,059; Il d'Orleans at Quebec 1,059, with many more in the 1,000 to 1,500 bracket.

HURT IN FALL.

SUMMERLAND — Billy Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Saunders, had the misfortune to dislocate his knee cap on Wednesday evening when he fell at West Summerland, causing the painful accident. The boy who is 15 was taken to the Summerland General Hospital for treatment.

Walnut Is Top Furniture Choice

Walnut looks like the wood to watch in 1954 furniture. Manufacturers seem to be getting walnut-conscious in both medium-priced and luxury furniture. This won't alter the amount of mahogany and maple pieces you'll see in the stores, but it will have a definite effect on wood finishes.

Instead of the silver-type woods that have been a high style favorite, '54 finishes seem to be in the beige to deep walnut range. For contrast with the darker tints of walnut, the furniture makers have elected birch to popularity. Birch has an interesting natural grain, and is being shown mostly under clear lacquer.

The furniture industry also is following one trend set this year - instead of decorating wood, the natural grain and wood patterns will be allowed to show through as design. This means continued emphasis on exotic woods that have decorative grain patterns, like rosewood or zebra-wood.

Brass continues to be the odds-on favorite for wood hardware. It looks good with walnut, and most other woods too.

Before painting doors remove handles and other hardware.

Plywood Design Produces Distinctive Low Cost Suburban Residence

Studied simplicity of design, echoed in an uncluttered use of the natural surfaces and textures of the materials of construction, mark the modern home of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Johnson, 677 East 10th Avenue, New Westminster, B.C.

One of two outstanding low-cost homes similar in floor plan and general structural detail and built originally for Westcoast Agencies, Ltd., New Westminster, from plans by Architect Fred Hollingsworth, Vancouver, the Johnson home contains 1080 sq. ft. of floor space and was erected for only about $10.50 per foot, including all the plywood built-in and storage fixtures and the cost of the lot itself.

Building was carried out under the National Housing Act.

Dominating the entire design is the Douglas fir plywood used for exterior and interior walls of the house and patio and the large general storage unit forming the side wall of the car port.

Fir plywood was also employed for storage walls between the three bedrooms, built-in dressing tables, kitchen cabinets and the combined bookcase and storage unit covering the greater part of the rear wall of the living room and dining alcove.

Masonry is all of pumice block and roof is of plank and timber beam construction. In a new series of homes of the same general type, which Mr. Hollingsworth is now planning for erection in Calgary, he proposes to substitute plywood beams for solid timber.

Main walls of the house consist of 3/4-inch plywood panels nailed, 16 in. on centre, to the inside and outside of 2 in. x 4 in. studs, the finished wall forming a box beam with no sheathing required for further stiffening.

An additional 1/4-in. thickness of plywood was added to the exterior on instructions from the NHA authorities, although the architect was perfectly satisfied that the single thickness of 3/4-in. plywood would have met all structural requirements perfectly satisfactorily and no objection had been raised by the city building department.

Extensive use was made of non-bearing storage walls between bedrooms, together with convenient plywood built-ins and working areas in the compact kitchen, specially designed plywood furniture for dining and living areas and interesting plywood lighting fixtures.

Before staining to bring out the full beauty and richness of the Douglas fir plywood grain, wall panels were first treated with a toxic wood preservative, taking care that all edges were well dipped.

A particularly interesting feature of this house is the layout of the patio, which, due to the orientation, had to face the street. Prolongation of the end wall of the car port helped to preserve the desired privacy for this open-air extension of the family living area, however, and the dark-stained plywood panels form a pleasantly contrasting background for the gayly-colored flower beds.

In addition to securing a modern home of unusually high visual appeal and compact floor plan with large storage capacity in a limited area, the owners of this dwelling enjoy the added advantages of the high structural qualities and time and labor-saving characteristics of Douglas fir plywood that made construction at such reasonable cost per square foot possible.

Step-By-Step Plan In Wood Finishing

Elton Cross, director of the home economics service of the University of British Columbia department of extension, has outlined the steps necessary to prepare the wood for finishing.

The first thing is to prepare the surface of the wood for the finishing process. Apply varnish remover with a paint brush and allow it to stand until gummy. Then remove it with a putty knife or a scraper. On curved sections use an old tooth brush or an orange stick to remove the varnish. Keep the surface moist to prevent setting and wipe clean with a rag when the varnish is removed. When the varnish is gone clean the furniture thoroughly with a solvent.

Repair all the joints and remove the dents. Dents may be removed by placing soaked brown paper or rags over the marks and covering the wet paper with a hot iron. The steam created will raise the wood. Do not touch the surface until it is thoroughly dry.

Remove dark spots and stains with clothes bleach or oxalic acid solution. Use sandpaper and steel wool over the entire surface, very gently, and always with the grain of the wood.

Warps in the wood are difficult to remove because they require use of a steam box. Amateurs are not advised to attempt this process.

When repairing old joints it is important to clean off all the old glue and to pad those joints that need it to ensure a tight fit. Old glue is removed with hot vinegar. Be sure that all the vinegar is wiped off and the wood is dry before continuing work. Warm new glue and apply to both surfaces when you replace the pieces.

Record year for Canada's fur industry was 1948 when output was valued at $66,384,000.

A heating lamp at Wintertime will give a Summer tan inside.

Tile Floors Are Fashionable And Require Little Attention

Tile floors are the newest rage in home design.

They are found in every style house from cottage to mansion - in foyer, dining room and even living room. They are popular too, in bedrooms, particularly where furnishings are in Italian or French or a combination of traditional and modern styles.

These floors are easy to care for, whether asphalt, vinyl or rubber.

Rubber tiles are lovely, but many home makers ruin their nice patina by improper care, such as scrubbing. They may be kept clean and shiny by observing these rules suggested by rubber flooring experts:

If the floor becomes very dirty or if something spills, clean with a dampened mop of cold water.

Give floors a thorough cleaning and waxing once or twice a year. For special cleaning use specially prepared solutions and rinse with a mop of clear water.

When dry, buff the floor to remove invisible film that may be left and apply a thin coat of water emulsion flooring wax. Buff it, applying a second coat of wax, and buff again.

If certain spots suffer from a good deal of traffic, simply clean and re-wax worn areas, not the entire floor.

A little steel wool rubbed over burned spots in the tiles will renew them, making them look good as ever.

For ordinary mopping of asphalt tiles warm water and mild soap are suggested. The tile is rinsed with clear water and should be dried at once. It is important to make sure to rinse the tiles; the experts say. Other don'ts are the use of caustic

A four foot circle of three quarter inch waterproof Douglas fir plywood nailed to the top of a barrel and painted in gay colors makes an attractive and inexpensive garden table. The set may be completed with fir plywood seats fastened to nail kegs.

A Swedish concern says that in order to keep the average home cozy and warm from the heat given off by a cow, the average house would need to stable about 25 of them.

soaps, gasoline and mineral spirits.

Asphalt tiles are washed once a month with a water emulsion wax. One coat is applied in the morning, the second in the afternoon. To keep asphalt floors looking their best wash and buff them between waxings. Wax should be completely removed once a year.

J. J. Gillespie, Denver utilities company official has been experimenting with a gadget to test alkaleness of waxed floors. Taking a cloth bag containing 10 pounds of sand or shot, he places it on a piece of cheese cloth spread on a waxed floor. There he hooks a spring scale to the bag and pulls just hard enough to start it sliding. The slicker the floor, the lighter the pull required. If the scale reads less than three pounds, Gillespie said, the floor probably is slick to a point of hazard.

Disaster IN THE HOME

Every hour, every day, disaster in some form hits a Canadian home. It seldom gives warning, and never looks back with compassion. It strikes through fire, through storm, through a poorly-set ladder, through a toy on the stairs . . .

Insurance is the bulwark of millions of Canadians against the financial loss - but not the pain - of disaster in the home. Claims payments of companies writing various types of household insurance exceeded $50,000,000 last year - an important factor in reducing the impact of disaster in the home.

Reports By Summerland Experimental Station Covers Many Subjects

Continued mild weather has permitted much outside work to be done. Pruning is well under way, all orchards have been mouse baited, rogue tree fruit seedlings have been pulled and fall sown cover crops are still growing slowly.

TOMATO BREEDING

(L. G. Denby)

During the months of November-December, efforts have been concentrated on the problem of breeding resistance to Verticillium wilt into tomato varieties which are widely planted in this region. Initial crosses had been made in the field during the summer, but much of this effort was discounted as a result of a violent hail storm which occurred a few days after the crosses had been completed. This work is now being conducted under glass, using a female parent which has been identified as homozygous for resistance, crosses are being made with varieties such as Stokesdale No. 4, Gem, Earliana, and Clark's Early as the pollen parents; the program calls for backcrossing at least six times to recover the characteristics of the desired variety in the homozygous form. After each backcross, tests for resistance to Verticillium will be conducted by the Laboratory of Plant Pathology on this station and the subsequent cross will be made using the selections which are isolated as a result of this testing.

HEAT PENETRATION

(F. E. Atkinson and C. C. Strachan)

During the current season, canned tomatoes were packed in No. 2, 2½ and No. 10 cans and processed at 212, 230, 240 and 250 degrees F. These tomatoes were recently examined and it was found that the higher temperatures caused no serious effect. In fact, the tomatoes in gallon cans which are often badly broken were found to be quite whole. Also, the length of cook did not appear to be a factor in breaking down the tomato flesh. During September members of the laboratory staff canned tomatoes from plots being surveyed by M. McGibbon in Cawston, Kelowna, Vernon, Kamloops and Ashcroft. A cooking vat which could be quickly connected to a steam line was taken to each of these canneries so that a standard process could be given the tomatoes in each factory. The tomatoes were picked from the plots and canned the same day.

Samples of the commercial run of the factory were also obtained. In general, it would appear that the greatest difference was between the commercial samples on one hand and the laboratory samples on the other. Practically all the laboratory samples were better than the commercial, and some of the laboratory samples were outstanding. Present results would indicate the need of greater co-operation between the growers and canners so that the tomatoes may be picked at full canning maturity and be canned as quickly as possible.

APPLE PIE FILLERS

(C. C. Strachan and A. W. Moyla)

Work on pie fillers was continued on the following apple varieties: Delicious, Stayman, Winesap and Newton.

In the preliminary tests Winesap appeared to make the best filler in regard to flavor, color, consistency and texture. Newton was also very good. The Stayman variety tended to break down and had a mild or low flavor. The samples prepared from Delicious were very flat but could probably be improved by the addition of a small amount of acid.

FAIR IRRIGATION

(J. C. Wilcox)

Fruit growers in the central part of the Okanagan Valley usually irrigate from about May 1 to September 1. On shallow sandy soils the irrigation season is usually somewhat longer than this. At the southern end of the valley it is usually longer than in the central part, and at the northern end it is usually shorter.

The question frequently arises as to whether an extra irrigation should be recommended for the late fall, after the apples have all been picked. If the soil goes into the winter dry, the danger of frost injury to the roots is greatly enhanced. Moreover, the trees use some water all winter, and if the soil is dry they may actually suffer from drought. On various occasions, severe injury has occurred to fruit trees where the soil has been allowed to go dry into the winter.

It has always been a difficult problem at this station to know whether or not to recommend late fall irrigation to growers. The rate of drying of the soil varies from orchard to orchard and so is seldom possible to make an overall recommendation for all orchards. Moreover, fall rains come in haphazard fashion, and in many cases the growers have no sooner irrigated than it rains heavily.

Fortunately, a procedure has been developed that is helping to make recommendations on fall irrigation easier. Gypsum resistance blocks have been sunk on a number of orchards in different types of soil. Resistance readings are taken on them about the end of October, and these readings supply a sound basis for the recommendations. If the soil is getting too dry, irrigation is recommended irrespective of whether it might rain or not.

The tests made this fall and the observations made by the district horticulturists showed that many orchards were getting quite dry at the end of October. It was recommended, accordingly, that the heavy soils need not be irrigated. As a result, many growers have applied a late fall irrigation.

APPLES AND COLD STORAGE

(S. W. Porritt)

The life history of most fruits may be divided into a number of stages, e.g. cell division, cell enlargement, the period of maturation and the senescence. In addition, certain fruits exhibit a distinct transition phase, known as the "climacteric", occurring prior to senescence. The climacteric, characterized at certain temperatures by a sharp increase in respiration rate, is common to fruits such as apples, pears, bananas and avocados which have food reserves of starch or fat.

The climacteric period is further characterized by physical and chemical changes associated with ripening. Green colors change to yellow, fruit softens, characteristic aroma and taste developed. The output of ethylene, acetaldehyde and other volatile substances increases markedly during the climacteric period. Under certain conditions ethylene accelerates ripening, but once fruit enters the climacteric period it is no longer subject to ethylene stimulation.

Apples are usually harvested just prior to the climacteric although in some cases this stage may be entered while the fruit is still attached to the tree. Some authorities feel that McIntosh store best if harvested after the onset of the climacteric while other workers maintain the proper harvest occurs just prior to this period. Picking the fruit hastens the onset of the climacteric which in any case would occur shortly after picking if the fruit were not stored and cooled promptly.

During the 1953 harvest season, respiration studies were conducted on samples of different varieties of apples taken from fruit lots arriving at the packing houses. Samples consisting of about 20 apples, weighing 4 kilograms, were placed in respiration chambers at 68 degrees F. Carbon dioxide analyses were made daily to determine respiratory "treasuries." Of the 50 samples including McIntosh, Delicious, Newton, Winesap, Stayman and Rome Beauty varieties, 33 were pre-climacteric, 11 were post climacteric and 6 were in definite. As in the previous year the majority of the post-climacteric samples were found in the later varieties.

CLONAL APPLE ROOTSTOCKS

(A. J. Mann)

Tests with the clonal apple rootstocks developed at East Malling have now been in progress at this station for nearly 25 years. Of the stocks tested, one can now be definitely recommended for commercial planting in this area. This is Malling II. As grown at Summerland, Malling II is compatible with the standard commercial varieties and produces trees about one-third smaller than those on seedling rootstocks. The Malling II trees when 20 years old require spacing of 20 to 25 feet, can be picked with a ten-foot ladder and should yield over a thousand loose boxes of fruit per acre under good conditions.

Like all clonal stocks, trees on Malling II should be planted so that the bud union can be maintained just above ground level. If planted deeper than this there is risk that roots may develop from scion portions of the tree, thus defeating the objective of the clonal rootstock in controlling the size of the tree.

Malling II rootstock is only slightly susceptible to crown rot and is believed to be moderately winter hardy.

JOSEFINA GONZALEZ, Venezuelan Airline stewardess, shows 12-year-old Luiz Ramirez around the cockpit of a plane during a short stay at Idlewild Airport, New York, before the small stowaway was put back on a plane bound for Caracas. Luiz said he hid in the plane's galley before its takeoff from Maiquetia airport near the Venezuelan capital. Discovered when a stewardess counted the 21 passengers instead of the 20 aboard on departure, he was booked for an immediate return flight to his home. Airline employees took up a collection to give the boy a hearty meal during the wait.

Centre For Mentally Retarded Children Set Up At Kelowna

SUMMERLAND — Questioned as to the occupational centre for mentally retarded children which has been set up in the Aquatic Club building in Kelowna, J. Billyeald, mental health co-ordinator for school district No. 23, told Summerland Parent-Teacher association that a splendid teacher had been obtained and that at present four pupils were enrolled.

It is hoped to have as many as 12 or 15 in the class. Children outside of Kelowna needing this type of school could attend if parents could find boarding accommodation for them, which is realized to be difficult.

E. E. Bates asked if this special educational work were not the responsibility of the provincial government, rather than a local one. Mr. Billyeald's reply was that in Ontario where more of the work if this sort has been done than here, it was found to be better to set up the machinery locally, then apply for government grants. This was because it is most advantageous to have close co-operation with parents and the school to help the parents to understand how to live more happily and comfortably with the mentally slow child.

Mr. Billyeald said that when Premier W. A. C. Bennett was in Kelowna recently he was asked regarding provincial aid to such a school and answered that at present he was not prepared to give provincial grants, but that some help might be arranged through local school boards.

Kelowna school board have a representative on the occupational centre committee and are giving some help to further the work, the teacher said.

READY TO GO!
NEW 1954 GMC
WITH OVER 70 NEW FEATURES!
IN OVER 50 NEW MODELS!

Yes, the new GMC is ready to go—ready to bring you new heights in pulling power, carrying power, and staying power. It's handsomer too with its massive redesigned front end, new headlight spacing and driver-planned cabs.

But this year the GMC story is truly a power story. In over 50 models you can choose from the widest range of engines, transmissions and axles on the market. From this brilliant range of power units you can get the exact combination to haul your specific loads with the highest efficiency.

And though new efficient power is a big feature it is just one of the many which makes GMC outstanding. There's over 70 new features in all—and every last one is designed to give higher performance, greater profit, greater comfort and convenience. Nothing has been overlooked in the forward march to bring you a truck that's filled with power, that's built to take the heaviest loads over the roughest going and come back for more. Ask your dealer to explain the brilliant, new advances that can be yours in 1954. You'll see immediately how they'll mean great new benefits to you in your business. Then choose the one model in 50 that's exactly right for your requirements and be ready to go for more profits in any trucking job.

NEW HYDRA-MATIC TRANSMISSION NEW GRAIN-TIGHT PICK-UP BODIES NEW DEPENDABLE ENGINE POWER NEW RIDE CONTROL SEAT COMFORT

Here's the feature you've been waiting for. The 9300 and 9400 series now have a new Hydra-Matic transmission which eliminates clutch and gear shifting. It also selects the right gear for any load and any condition.

Now you can carry sand or grain loose in the pick-up box with no leakage. And the boxes are deeper this year, giving a lower loading height. Even the tailgate is stronger with new safety catch that eliminates rattles.

You get a wide choice of GMC engines. And all are of the valve-in-head design which has won fame over the years. The Thrifmaster and Loadmaster engines have been increased from 100 to 112 horsepower.

With this amazing optional feature, the driver floats over bumps with no harsh jouncing. And for extra comfort, the seat is fully adjustable so the driver can select the best driving position.
